BRINNIER SUGGESTS "GATEWAY OF PEACE"

Former Mayor Advocates Erecting $20,000 Memorial Arch on Broadway and Offers to Contribute $1,000 or Toward Defraying Cost.

The following letter from Corporation Counsel William D. Brinnier makes a suggestion worthy of careful consideration:

Office of
The Corporation Counsel
City of Kingston—New York
November 14th, 1918.

To the Editor of The Freeman:

I notice that several cities are talking of erecting arches as a monument in memory to those soldiers and sailors who have died and those who are living and I suggest that an arch of permanent character be erected across Broadway from the City Hall grounds to the High School grounds to be known as the "Gateway of Peace" with the figure of a soldier and sailor thereon, which would be a fitting memory to those who have fought and died for their country.

This could be done at an expense of probably $20,000 and I am willing to contribute $1,000 toward the erection of the same and more if necessary.

Will other good citizens join me in this matter and take it up immediately so that when our Ulster County boys return they may march through this "Gateway of Peace."

Respectfully,

WM. D. BRINNIER.

RADICALS GAINING CONTROL IN EUROPE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 14.—The revolutionary Bolshevik movement, accompanied by strikers, is spreading rapidly in Europe, according to dispatches received here.

Riots were reported today from Zurich, Copenhagen and Brussels.

Holland, fearing that a revolution is brewing, has expelled the Bolshevik envoy at The Hague and broken off diplomatic relations with the Bolshevik regime in Russia.

Reds are now wholly in control in Germany, with the Radical Socialists dominating the new government at Berlin.

In Sweden Radical Socialists have issued a manifesto calling for the establishment of a republic and the demobilization of the army and navy.

Bolshevism got a grip on the railway workers in Switzerland, where a national railway strike is on.

German soldiers have followed out the ideas of the Russians in establishing soldiers' committees in the army. In Germany soviets are being formed all over the country, composed of workmen and soldiers and sailors.

The labor situation in Germany is becoming serious with spreading strikes.

FATE OF CROWN PRINCE NOT CERTAIN

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 14.—Conflicting reports continue to come in regarding the fate of Former German Crown Prince Frederick.

The Amsterdam correspondent of the Central News today quoted a Maastrecht dispatch as saying that the crown prince, accompanied by four motor cars, left Charleville, France, at "5:30 in the morning."

The crown prince's face was covered with a goggle mask, it was said.

STRIKE TIES UP SWISS TRAFFIC

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 14.—Disorders have broken out in the general railroad strike in Switzerland and a battle has been fought in the streets of Zurich, said a Berne dispatch to the Daily Express today.

The Zurich fight was between Bolshevik strikers and troops.

Traffic in Switzerland is badly crippled.

AS SEASON CLOSES

It is Found Many Does Have Been Shot.

At least seven does are reported to have been found dead in the Big Indian valley this year since the season opened, says a Pine Hill exchange. If the game protectors in this section would show as much energy in protecting deer as they do in protecting trouts and suckers they might be considered of some benefit. Perhaps they are afraid they might be taken for a buck and shot if seen in the mountains.

Still Guarding Water Supply.

The Ashokan dam and reservoir of New York city is still being guarded by a company of state guardsmen. There are a number of the guards at Brown's Station, High Falls and other points along the line and 200 more, it was stated, were scheduled to arrive today to augment the present force. They belong to the Fourth Regiment and come from Binghamton, Elmira and other cities in that section of the state.

CAPTAIN CRUMP KILLED IN ACTION

Captain Samuel Crump, formerly a member of the staff of the Evening Star of Poughkeepsie, and a former resident of Kingston, was killed in action in France on September 29. Captain Crump when a resident of this city resided at The Kirkland, and was well known. One of his sisters is the wife of Dr. E. D. B. Loughran, now in France. Another sister, Miss Elizabeth Crump, is a nurse in a base hospital in France. Mrs. Robert M. Ferris, of Montclair, N. J., is also a sister. Captain Crump when he entered the service was with the New York Telephone Company. While stationed with the telephone company in Albany he became first lieutenant of Company C, Tenth Infantry. His training in military matters was of the highest order of proficiency, and he was designated as recruiting officer for the Albany district. He served in that capacity until the draft boards were established and then went to Spartanburg, S. C., in the federal service. He won the rank of captain when assigned to the division which absorbed a large portion of the Camp Wadsworth men, first sent overseas, and after brilliant service, it is now reported he was made a major. His father resides with A. H. Van Buren on Washington avenue, this city.

COUSE KILLED BY EXPLODING SHELL

Charles William Couse of No 127 O'Neil street died in the Kingston City Hospital as the result of a shell exploding at the Brewster powder plant at Port Ewen this morning. Mr. Couse was loading shells when one exploded, blowing off the lower part of his chin. The police department was notified and the ambulance made a hurried call, removing Mr. Couse to the hospital. George Mulholland, of this city, was blinded by dust, but his injuries are not serious. He was removed to his home.

WANT MEN IN CAMP SENT HOME

Need for Drafted Men in Civil Life—Army Overseas to Remain for Winter—Plans for Peace Army.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Insistent demand that the draft troops in the various army cantonments in the country, be discharged from the army at once is being voiced here. These men are very badly needed in industry. Many of them were brought in through recent calls and their old jobs are being held open for them. But whether they can be discharged or held for many months to come is a problem that is bringing considerable worry to officials responsible.

The men now in the army, excepting those who regularly enlisted in the old regular army, are by law compelled to serve "during the period of the emergency." Secretary of War Baker and his assistants hold that under this regulation these men must remain in the service until the peace treaty has been signed. Then all will be mustered out at the same time. Congressional leaders are disposed to question this construction. However, they say that anything that the war department desires done to expedite demobilization will be done by congress.

The general staff has before it the draft of legislation designed to cover the demobilization and its accompanying problems. It also has its views of what the country should do to adopt a system of universal military training completed. It has plans for creating a new army of the United States to replace the old regular army around which the present wonderful fighting-force of the United States was constructed. All of these plans have been put in the shape of legislation which if it is approved by President Wilson and Secretary of War Baker will be sent to congress with the request that it be enacted into law.

If the bills are separate then it is almost a certainty that the war department will be given authority to muster out of the service all of the army units in such manner as it thinks best. This would permit the mustering out of the men held in this country within a very reasonable time. However, should the mustering out authorization be accompanied by the other bills, especially that which calls for compulsory military service, adoption of the legislation cannot be secured. There are enough men in both houses of congress who are unalterably opposed to compulsory military service to hold up any legislation covering it for an indefinite period.

It is expected that a definite decision on policy will be announced shortly. So far as the army overseas is concerned it will be held there probably through the winter at least. A part of it must remain on duty there indefinitely. All problems with the expeditionary forces, however, will be worked out by General Pershing. He and his aides are working on plans that cover every contingency that may arise. With sentiment spreading to neutral nations, the necessity of guarding the victorious American army from the danger of having its morale weakened by insidious propaganda is apparent, but General Pershing already has taken steps to meet this.

GILL AND JOYCE KILLED IN ACTION

Two Well Known Kingston Boys Met Hero's Death on September 29—War Department Notified Families Wednesday Evening.

Two more representatives of Kingston's manhood have made the supreme sacrifice for our county, and Wednesday evening the war department notified Mrs. Paul Radatz of No. 12 Foxhall avenue, that her son, Private Arthur F. Gill, 19 years old, had been killed in action on September 29, while Mr. and Mrs. Martin Joyce, of No. 55 East Chester street, received word at the same time of the death of their son, Private John J. Joyce, killed in action the same day.

Private Gill, when Germany forced our country into war went to Poughkeepsie, where he enlisted, and was sent to training camp and later across to France. At the time of his death he was a member of Company I, 107th Infantry. He was a very popular young man and a member of the Central Athletic Club on Hasbrouck avenue. His host of friends will regret his death.

Private Joyce's death will add another gold star to the service flag at the Kingston high school, of which he was a student, when he enlisted with Company M. He was one of the first to respond to the call for volunteers. He left with Company M for Spartanburg, and was later transferred to the 107th Infantry, Company B, the same division of which Private Gill was a member.

Both Private Gill and Private Joyce were young men, who were held in high esteem, and their courageous death on the battlefield will never be forgotten in the memory of Kingston. Their sorrow stricken families have the heartfelt sympathy of the entire city.

Sub Crews Seek Refuge.

Clam Chowder Sale.

Mrs. Miniere's Sunday school class of the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church will have a clam chowder sale on Friday, at 11 o'clock, in the basement of the church.

IN THE SERVICE OF OUR COUNTRY

PRIVATE FRED C. STOUT.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stout of South Rondout, N. Y., whose address now is: 11th Regiment, Battery E, F. A., R. D., Camp Jackson, S. C.

Word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thomas of 122 Chambers street of the safe arrival overseas of their son, Charles C. Thomas, of Co. H, 133rd Inf., A. E. F.

Private Edward C. Fallon of the Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Wadsworth, S. I., has been promoted to corporal. Corporal Fallon is a son of Mrs. Margaret Fallon of Foxhall avenue.

Fred Snyder, son of Supervisor and Mrs. J. Charles Snyder, of 315 Washington avenue, left this morning for Camp Zachary Taylor, Ky., to enter the school for artillery officers. Young Mr. Snyder for some time was an obliging carrier of The Freeman.

VICTORY BOYS AND GIRLS GOING FINE

An enthusiastic meeting was held at the high school this morning and it looks as if the boys and girls of that school would go over the top in enrolling for the Victory Boys and Victory Girls. Harry P. Dodge led the singing of the student body which responded with great vim under his able leadership.

The Victory Boys and Victory Girls plan of the War Chest was presented by S. P. Hines and R. J. Lewis. Mr. Lewis has charge of the Victory Boys and Miss Edith Case has charge of the Victory Girls in the high school.

Word was received this morning from Prof. James of Saugerties High School saying nearly every boy and girl has or will enroll in the Victory Boys and Victory Girls.

The Victory Boy and Victory Girl button is a badge of honor and is to be worn by boys and girls who have or will enroll to earn and give 50c per month for one year from December 1st toward the Ulster County War Chest. The sum asked for is only 12½c per week, less than the price of one soda or one movie which may be sacrificed by the boy or girl. Every school boy and girl 12 years of age and over can send comfort and cheer to a soldier for six weeks by signing one of the Victory Cards.

A window card saying a boy or girl in this house has enrolled to help a soldier shows that that house has a real patriotic American.

Which school in Kingston will be the first to have the honor of 100% of its boys and girls 12 years of age and over enrolled? An effort is being made to secure work for those who enroll and headquarters for both boys and girls will be announced so that people will know where they can secure a Victory Boy or a Victory Girl. Who will lead Victory Boys or Victory Girls?

COLUMBIA EMPLOYES VICTORY BANQUET

This afternoon the Columbia Shirt Company, Inc., tendered its one hundred and fifty employes a Victory banquet in the cutting department at the shirt factory on O'Neil street. The afternoon was devoted to a general good time to commemorate the close of the world war. Following the banquet dancing was enjoyed, and the event will long be remembered by those fortunate enough to have been present. Casper Ketterer was the caterer.

PRESIDENT TO NAME PEACE DELEGATES

Precedent Upholds Wilson in Consulting Senate Only for Ratification of Treaty When Completed.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 14—The peace commissioners of the United States, when appointed, will be responsible only to President Wilson. They will be appointed by the president without consulting the senate. The first the senate will hear of the negotiations officially will be when it is called upon by the president either to ratify or reject the treaty his commissioners have signed.

Examination of the precedents established in past peace negotiations in which the United States has been involved showed today that the then president always has appointed his own commissioners, has had charge of all peace negotiations and has not been responsible to the senate except in submitting the final treaty to that body for ratification.

In view of these precedents, it was believed today that Republican resentment against Colonel E. M. House will result only in violent speeches on the floor of the senate when he is named on the peace commission, also provided the president names him. No attempt to cancel his commission from the president will be possible, even if certain senators desired.

The commissioners appointed by President Madison in 1814 to conclude peace following the second war with Great Britain were not subject to ratification by the senate, and in conducting their negotiations they communicated only with the president and the secretary of state. The commissioners were John Quincy Adams, J. A. Bayard, Henry Clay and Joanthan Russell. Many documents bearing their signatures are in the possession of the senate.

Several attempts to open negotiations between the United States and the Confederacy were made during the civil war. In each instance the commissioners were appointed by President Lincoln without the advice and consent of the senate. President Lincoln, himself, with Secretary of State Seward, acted as a commissioner, in one instance to hear proposals from the Confederacy. The war ended with the Union victorious and the surrender of General Lee and there was no peace conference at its conclusion. This struggle, of course, was a family affair.

President McKinley, during the Spanish-American war, appointed William R. Day, secretary of state, who at once resigned, and United States Senators Cushman K. Davis, William P. Frye and George Gray and Whitelaw Reid as commissioners to conclude peace with Spain on the basis of a protocol previously signed. McKinley's commissioners were not confirmed by the senate and they held themselves responsible to him.

In his message to congress in December, 1898, President McKinley showed he had taken entire charge of negotiations for peace when he used this language:

"Their negotiations have made hopeful progress so that I trust soon to be able to lay a definite treaty of peace before the senate, with a review of the steps leading to its signature."

In view of the action of former presidents in appointing members of the senate among their delegates to peace conferences, there was speculation at the capitol today over whether President Wilson will follow their example. Possible selections from among the senate membership might be Senators Lodge or Knox (Republicans) and Williams and Thomas (Democrats). The only member of the house mentioned as a possible member of the commission is Swagar Sherley of Kentucky, recently defeated in his contest for re-election, and he may be eliminated through appointment as solicitor general of the United States.

PRIVATE SILLS IN ENGLISH HOSPITAL

Private Joseph E. Sills, who was a member of Company M when it left Kingston, and was afterward transferred at Camp Wadsworth to a Hospital Corps, is now in an English hospital, wounded. A letter from him has just been received by his aunt, Mrs. A. S. Hammond, of Clifton avenue, stating that he was seriously wounded in the battle of Cambrai and taken to England with many English wounded. He writes that he is going to pull through all right, but that it will be some time before he can go without his crutches. He would be pleased to get a line or two from any of his friends. His address is "Joseph E. Sills, 1st Southern General Hospital, Edgbaston, Birmingham, England, Ward E. 1."

GARMENT WOKERS IN GREAT STRIKE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Nov. 14.—Fifty-five thousand garment workers, members of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America, are on strike in Greater New York and nearby New Jersey cities today, demanding an eight-hour day and a twenty per cent. increase in wages.

Twenty thousand workers who are making uniforms for the army and navy have remained at work by direction of President Sidney Hillman, of the union.

Indications today are there will be a serious and perhaps lengthy tieup in local clothing manufacture, it is said.

WAR CHEST FUND GROWS FAST ON THIRD DAY

County War Work Treasury Now Has Nearly $68,000 In It—Dr. Ellis Addresses Workers and Mayor Makes Clear What Money is For.

There were no out of town speakers at the meeting of the War Chest Drive workers at the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday evening, money doing the most of the talking. The Rev. Charles G. Ellis was the one speaker and very briefly described some of the educational work being done by the organizations for which we are now raising money.

The meeting was opened with the asking of a blessing by the Rev. P. C. Weyant, pastor of the Trinity M. E. Church. Following the serving of the luncheon—and it should be stated that most appetizing and satisfying, not to mention delicious luncheons, are being served in record time each evening by the ladies of Kingston under the supervision of Miss Van Keuren—Mayor Canfield, in answer to some questions brought in cleared up some misunderstandings which the public may be interested in.

While the Ulster County Home Defense Committee, the Agency for Dependent and Defective Children, the Tuberculosis Hospital, the Kingston City Hospital, the Benedictine Sanitarium, the Industrial Home, the Y. M. C. A. and the Boy Scouts are all included in the War Chest fund as set for this drive, that does not say that all charities or philanthropies will be absolutely barred from securing funds through subscriptions. The mayor will, however, reserve the right to prevent and request for such subscription privileges during the year, to the board of directors of the War Chest, and they will decide whether or not it will be to the best interests of the community to grant them financial aid from the emergency of contingent fund of the War Chest. The whole idea is to do away with any soliciting, except that for the Red Cross, for the whole coming year. This does not mean that tickets cannot be sold at the door for any entertainment, but that people cannot be solicited at their homes to pledge money through advance sales of tickets, etc., for additional subscriptions.

The Victory Boys and the Victory Girls are the boys and girls in our schools who will pledge themselves to earn at least 50 cents a month to give into the War Chest.

The mayor further explained that through some misunderstanding the meeting of the evening before had been privileged to listen to two inspiring speakers from New York, while there had been failure to send any one from New York for Wednesday evening. So, in place of a long-distance man the chairman called upon the Rev. Charles G. Ellis to address those present.

What Mr. Ellis told was most illuminating. A member of his family is now stationed in one of the far south camps, and letters from this person had given the following amazing accounts of the ignorance of the drafted men who had gone in from the mountain sections. It was an absolute impossibility to convince one group of these mountaineer draftees that they were not in Fance, when they reached the camp. They had traveled two or three days, and they knew they were in France, and only France itself could convince them to the contrary. On one frightfully hot night, when heat prostrations seemed inevitable, the commanding officer found to his amazement that these men were trying to sleep with every article of their complete uniform on. When told to take off their clothes and go to bed in as much comfort as possible, they practically refused because they never could get all those clothes on in the morning in time for inspection, and they would be blamed if they did not. Their home clothes had consisted of a shirt and pair of trousers, not even socks and shoes. Drilling them was almost as impossible as teaching them geography. And now those very men, thanks to these various war organizations, are being taught not only the lessons of war, but "book larnin'," how to live rightly, etc.: in brief they are being and have been given and will be given such an education as they could never have secured in any other way.

CENSORSHIP BAN LIFTED ON PRESS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The voluntary censorship under which the press of this country guarded from the enemy the military policies, plans and troop movements of the United States government at war, was today repealed by George Creel, chairman of the committee on public information, as no longer necessary.

"The secretary of the navy, the secretary of war and all others concerned in this country's war efforts join in sincere acknowledgement of gratitude to the press of the United States," said a statement of Mr. Creel's in regard to the abolishment of the censorship.

"Without force of law and no larger compulsion than their own patriotism, the overwhelming majority of the newspapers of the country have given unfaltering obedience to every desire of the government and to matters of military secrecy, carrying through a tremendous experience in honor and trust."

The award, based on the recommendations of the railway administration's board of adjustment of wages and working conditions, will be rendered Saturday or Sunday, it was promised.

HIGHLAND.

Highland, Nov. 13.—Monday in this place as soon as the really official news of peace came over the wires the people were simply wild with joy and why shouldn't they be? It was said by some of our townspeople they were going to have a big parade and speakers and so forth, and few of the men got in a dispute and parade much talked off was called off, but that did not matter for mingled with sorrowful feelings for the past came great anticipations for the future, for the curtain had fallen upon the past, the cruel war, and another and a glorious scene came to us all for "world wide peace" Hope, courage and high purposes thrilled the hearts of everyone and all the people felt that they should put their hands to the plough and never look back until the whole nation sings "Peace on Earth, Good Will to Men," and so we had a celebration and parade It was called by some the "common people's celebration" Glad to belong to it, for I tell you the good Lord must love the common people for He made more of them than any others We had a band of music from Marlborough and numberless automobiles decorated most beautifully with our grand red, white and blue School children and citizens paraded and Principal E A Marsh, of the high school gave a fine address and to the point, and Rev. F. A. Coon, pastor of the M E Church, made a very impressive prayer and in between band music, the church bell pealed forth and the siren fire whistle shrieked out its fearful blasts all for peace. In one auto was a fine robust "billy-goat" which seemed to enjoy the ride, and on this car was the word "Peace" and "We have the Kaiser's goat" This was a true saying and a very good take off. Discouragements assail all, but a good cause makes a stout heart and we are glad we pushed on and in the future we will hold grateful remembrance of our peace celebration of 1918 Crowds of people thronged the streets both afternoon and evening, and as we saw from all homes our flag and bunting waving in the breezes we felt that we all who stand beneath the grand flag were free for the American flag is the only one which bears the words "Liberty, Fraternity and Equality," and from now on may we hear these words "May peace be within thy walls and plenteousness within thy palaces"

Mrs Orsen Sheeley and daughter, Hazel were in Poughkeepsie Tuesday Dr Dobson is treating Hazel's eyes, which were left in bad condition from her recent sickness, which developed into pneumonia She is getting along very nicely, which is good news to her friends

Wednesday Mrs Hugo Bartholomay and Mrs Jack Leo and son, came up from New York in Mrs. Bartholomay's limousine and had lunch with their aunt, Mrs J C. Dedrick. Mrs Hover, a sister of Mrs Dedrick, was visiting her from New York About 3 o'clock all left for the trip back to the city taking Mrs Dedrick with them for a few days' stay She will return on Saturday

Mrs Chester Atkins was a shopper in Poughkeepsie this week

Mr and Mrs E A Marsh had guests from Poughkeepsie last Sunday

D C Mead who has been very ill and was taken to Vassar Hospital, in Poughkeepsie a few days ago, died on Saturday morning at the hospital. The funeral services, which were private were held from the late home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Foster A Coon, pastor of the M E Church officiated. There were a number of handsome floral pieces Mr Mead had lived here for a number of years and will be missed in his home and by many people. The interment was in Highland Cemetery, with Undertaker W. E Wilcox in charge

Percy Terpening in cranking H Seaman's car, last Saturday, broke his arm in two places

Mr and Mrs George Cornell and Mrs Amelia Elmendorf of Clintondale, and Rub. Cornell were in Poughkeepsie on Monday afternoon to witness the great parade It was a large one and the city was beautiful in its decorated buildings, and every effort was put forth to show their enthusiasm over glad tidings of peace

D. of A. will hold their regular meeting on Wednesday evening the 20th Let every officer and member be present as no meetings have been held lately on account of the epidemic which has swooped down on every place All feel now that new zeal and effort should be manifested This is an important meeting Do not forget the date.

Clarence J. Elting was a business visitor in Poughkeepsie last week.

Mrs Amelia Elmendorf of Clintondale who has been a guest of Mr and Mrs George Cornell, of Maple avenue for a short time, returned to her home last week.

Cluett Schantz was in Poughkeepsie last Wednesday He has been ill for some time and is recovering very slowly.

Mrs Jack Lucas and son were in Poughkeepsie last Friday calling on relatives

Last Thursday afternoon a message came over the wires to the effect that peace had been declared and this caused the blood to tingle in all American veins with more than a gentle thrill. In fact we all experienced a sensation of genuine pleasure almost beyond description. At the good news flags and bunting waved and nodded in the wind and we supposed Highland would put on her gayest attire for if glorious peace was ours as Americans there is nothing could blaze more fittingly than our glorious Stars and Stripes But our ideas and minds, joy was turned very soon to failure.

Mrs Bluemel, Mrs Hudson, Mrs Orsen Sheeley, Miss Hazel Sheeley, Mrs. Edward Rhoades Mrs. Roy Renson, Theodore Coutant, R. H Decker, Mrs. Angelo Hasbrouck, Mrs Hugo Steller, Miss Dora Steller, Mrs Myron Terpening and Lloyd Plass were among the many from this place in Poughkeepsie shopping last week. Everyone was so jubilant for they thought the war was soon to close.

Dr J. C. Becker of Dutchess county was in town Thursday last. He is looking fine and has a fine practice and doing nicely This is good news.

Miss Bessie DuBois was a shopper in Poughkeepsie Saturday.

Mrs George Van Aken, Mrs Hunter and her daughter, all of Poughkeepsie, spent Sunday with Mr and Mrs Dyett at their home in this place on Maple avenue.

Mr. and Mrs Chester Atkins and daughter, Ethel, were on a motor trip last Sunday and had a fine time

Miss Florence Keiser, who at one time resided here, was in town recently for a few days

Miss Bertha Dinney was in Lloyd Sunday a guest of her mother, Mrs Eli Dinney

Theron DuBois was a business caller in Poughkeepsie last Thursday

Mrs Frank Van Vleet of Maple avenue was visiting in Poughkeepsie last week

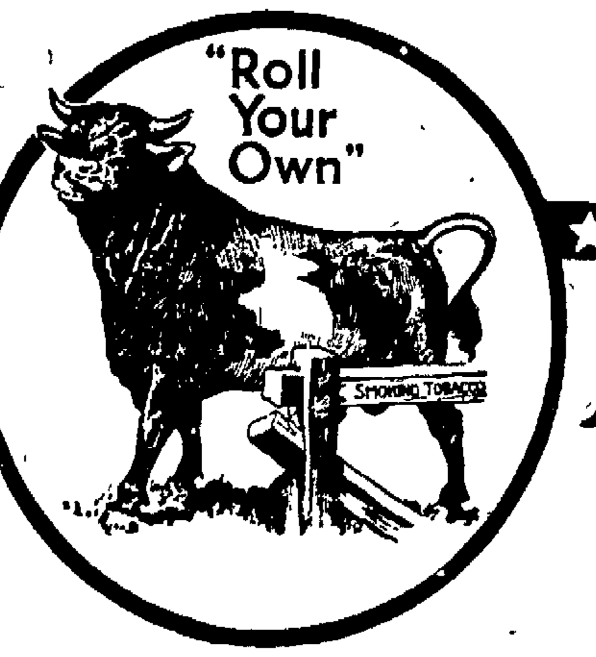
Rev. G H Scofield was in New York for a few days last week

Glad to report T Edward DuBois, who has been seriously ill, able to go out on street although he is very weak but he is glad to be around.

The M. E Church was opened last Sunday after being closed for several weeks There was a good sized congregation at both morning and evening services The pastor, Rev. Foster A Coon, delivered very forceful sermons both morning and evening and touched on the theme "Peace" most beautifully. It is hoped that now as sickness has subsided the people will attend service and show their appreciation and thankfulness to the giver of all good for his manifold blessings, for we certainly have passed through sore afflictions and trials and we are very grateful for our lives

Funny, Ain't It?

Said the facetious feller: "I have often wondered how a man can speak straight from the shoulder unless he does his talking on his fingers."



Home Again

Our Fighting Men Assured of Their "Makings"—the Government Releases Part of the Output of "BULL" DURHAM Tobacco.

THIS is good news from Washington!

Since April, at the request of the Government, our entire output of "BULL" DURHAM, thirty-six million sacks a month, has been going to our fighting men—going forward with the colors—until now every camp, every billet, every naval station and every ship is supplied and the Government is assured that wherever our boys in khaki and in blue are—there also is "BULL" DURHAM.

For this purpose, was our entire output requested and given. The purpose accomplished—and full supplies of "BULL" DURHAM guaranteed for the future—the Government has released the remaining part of the "Makings of a Nation" for civilian consumption.

Ask your dealer for a sack of "Bull," and once again, with your own hands, roll a cigarette for yourself—a cigarette machines can't imitate—the mildest, the most fragrant, the most economical cigarette in the world. Thus, we know, you will welcome good old "Bull" home again. For "Bull" has done his bit gladly and well—and will continue to do it right into Berlin.

GERMAN PRESS BEMOANS TERMS

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Amsterdam, Nov. 13—(Delayed)—"The armistice terms are indeed heavy but after the downfall of the old system there is no alternative but for the new government to accept them," says the German Socialist newspaper Vorwaerts of Berlin.

The Berlin Tageblatt calls the terms "unprecedented," adding:

"We are ready to deliver fortresses and surrender our ships but in addition a large amount of railway material is necessary for our support and it should be demanded. With these terms to support a crisis is nearing."

The Berlin Tages Zeitung says that the terms were modelled on those dictated by Rome to Carthage. This paper went on:

"The people must now ask the government for a clear statement of the measures they propose to take to meet this terrible catastrophe."

The Taglische Rundschau says:

"The terms are monstrous. They will result in famine and perpetuation of revolution."

VICTORY MATTER OF COURSE

American Advantage in Battle Obvious to the Most Casual Observer of Events.

One of the great assets on the side of the United States in any war is the complete and unbounded confidence of all the people—soldiers and civilians—that we are going to win. No one for a moment has any doubt about that. Some of us feel that we may have to pay a heavy price but most of us will feel also that it is going to be worth all that it costs.

It is to be noted that this sense of confidence that fills the hearts of the people is not the overconfidence by which great battles are sometimes lost, but rather the consciousness of being in the right and of having the mental and physical force to uphold that right for our own sakes and for the sake of the world. This calm confidence is unquestionably a great American advantage.

The magnificent showing that has been made and always will be made by the American soldier boys thrills the hearts of all loyal citizens. It is inspiring and it warms the heart—but it was not unexpected.

Nature Study.

In the study of nature do not try to teach too much in one lesson. Notice first the characteristic features and qualities of whatever is under discussion; let the child examine the object if possible; remember that children are more interested in what things do than in their form.

Let the child examine a little plant, seed and all. Lead him to observe that it does something. It pushes its roots and its stem up; it eats and drinks, breathes, sleeps and wakes. It makes things: Leaves and flowers, seed and fruits. Incidentally, notice the form and color that these artists give to each individual plant.

Nature study need not be dull or difficult; it provides plenty of life and action. It is mostly our own interest that is dead, or our senses that need quickening.

Grasp a few fundamental principles and nature study in the home, in the kindergarten and in the school, will become the children's delight, the teacher's friend, and occupation for the nursery to help start the youngsters in busy work, a daily delight when walking out.

NEW PORTRAIT OF DICKENS

Engraving of Noted Author, Reverenced by Lovers of Literature, Recently Sold at Auction.

A new portrait of Dickens, hitherto unknown, not only to his friends, but even to his family, is surely a rare discovery, says Christian Science Monitor, commenting on the fact that Dickensians had the pleasure of seeing its reproduction in a recent issue of their paper. The portrait, which is a crayon drawing, is signed W. J. L., initials which are believed to stand for W. J. Linton, the famous wood engraver, the author of several pictures for "A Christmas Carol" and "The Chimes."

It was from Mrs. E. Lynn Linton, W. J. Linton's wife, that Dickens bought Gadshill place, but there is apparently no record that Linton ever visited Dickens there. It cannot, in fact, be determined whether this new portrait was done from life or not. It evidently has been to America at some time or other, for on the back of it appears: "New York Transfer Co., Dodd's Express, 944 Broadway, New York." The portrait was recently sold by auction in London, and is now the property of Messrs. Leggatt Bros. of Cheapside.

IN MATTERS OF EDUCATION

Question Where Authority for the Proper Conduct of Operations Should Be Rightly Placed.

Fundamentally the determining factor in educational administration becomes today one of finance. The school superintendents declare themselves unable to raise more money locally than is already furnished. The whole question of educational finance in relation to local taxation has not yet been adequately considered to determine the validity of such statements. Without going further into this problem an agitation has been begun for securing aid from the federal government. It is argued that the federal authority today is in a better position for levying taxes than is the local authority, that the nation as a whole is likely to suffer unless national measures are adopted for combating illiteracy, Americanizing the immigrant, and improving the physique of the citizens, and finally that teachers may now be regarded as performing service of national importance.—New Republic.

A Considerable Amount.

A certain little village in the West stands some distance from the nearest good supply of pure [illegible], and Patrick is the man who transports barrels of drinking water to the homes of the village.

One day, says Chicago Herald, as Patrick halted at the top of the river bank, a man famous for his inquisitive mind stepped and asked:

"How long have you hauled water for the village, my good man?"

"Tin years, sor."

"Ah, how many loads do you take in a day?"

"From tin to fifteen, sor."

"Ah, yes! Now, I have a problem for you. How much water at this rate have you hauled in all?"

The driver of the water cart jerked his thumb backward toward the river and replied:

"All the water yez don't see there now, sor."

Bird Songs.

It was the morning of June 20. I stood at the gate of the farmhouse where three roads met, and the air was full of bird songs. For a long time I stood there and tried to note how many different songs I could hear. Near by were the alto joy-notes of the Baltimore oriole. Up from the meadow where the trout flowed came the bubbling, gurgling notes of the bobolink. Robins, wood thrushes, song sparrows, chipping sparrows, bluebirds, vireos, gold finches, chebecs, indigo birds, flickers, phoebes, red-winged blackbirds, scarlet tanagers, catbirds, house wrens—altogether, without moving from my place, I counted 33 different bird songs and bird notes.—Samuel Scoville, Jr., in Atlantic.

Easily Arranged.

One beautiful summer night, when the crickets were chirping in the grass and the caterpillars were dropping from the trees, John Henry turned to the charming girl who was sitting on the veranda at his side.

"Edith," said he timorously, "there comes to me a thought. I might say a fear."

"Well, what is it?" queried the fair girl, as the other hesitated.

"I suppose," responded John Henry, suggestively, hopefully, "that were I to steal a kiss you would have me arrested?"

"Perhaps," was the ready rejoinder of the girl, "but you could find somebody to pay your fine, couldn't you?"

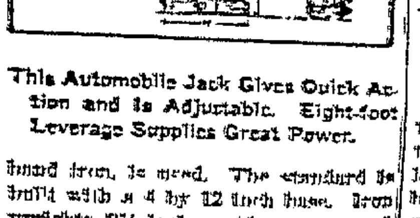
Why Called "Clove."

The word "clove" has come down from the French word "clou," which means a nail, because of the resemblance, partly real and partly fanciful, which the dried clove bears to a nail.

USEFUL QUICK-ACTION JACK

Plan Outlined for Construction of Satisfactory Device for Working in a Garage.

For garage work a satisfactory quick-acting jack may be made as shown, says Popular Mechanics. For the lever a nine-foot piece of 4 by 4 inch hard wood, shaped as shown and bound at the weight end with ½-inch band iron, is used. The standard is built with a 4 by 12 inch base. Iron uprights, 2½ inches wide, are secured by three bolts and provided with holes one-half inch apart, to permit adjustments. Fifteen inches should be the distance from the bottom of the base to the center line of the fulcrum when the lever is held in the top hole.



This Automobile Jack Gives Quick Action and Is Adjustable. Eight-foot Leverage Supplies Great Power.

Napoleon's Horses Trained.

Extraordinary were the precautions taken that Napoleon should never appear at a disadvantage on horseback. The emperor was not a first-class horseman, and his horses were always thoroughly broken in. Here is a description of the methods employed:

"They were trained to remain perfectly steady under tortures of every description; to receive blows about the head; drums were beat, pistols and crackers fired in their ears, flags waved before their eyes, clumsy packages, and sometimes even sheep and pigs, were thrown between their legs.

"None of the animals were deemed sufficiently trained till the emperor could, without the least difficulty, pull them up short at full gallop, which was his favorite pace."

Nuts and Sirup in Candy.

It is a fact of common knowledge that nuts are very high in food value, those used principally in manufacturing confectionery being almonds, filberts, pecans, peanuts and walnuts, averaging approximately 3,000 calories per pound. Corn sirup, erroneously called glucose, used largely in manufacturing gum drops, hard candies and taffies, is a pure, wholesome, transparent, heavy sirup, manufactured, as the name indicates, from corn.

TRADE WITH GERMANY.

Just before the armistice was signed the steamer Nieuw Amsterdam brought to the port of New York a cargo of German-made toys and other goods which had been bought and paid for by American merchants in 1914, but which were delayed in Holland by the war conditions. This caused considerable disturbance. Some of the consignees refused to receive the goods, preferring to stand their loss rather than sell "blood-stained" toys to be handled by innocent American children. Other importers have declined to follow this example on the ground that it would bankrupt them. Sears, Roebuck & Co. offered to distribute their share of the cargo and turn their profits over to the Red Cross, but that organization declined. The American Defense Society is making a strenuous effort to force the destruction of all imported German goods and has secured many thousand signers to a pledge never to buy anything made in Germany. All over the country merchants are warning jobbers that they will not handle German goods, being under the impression that they would be boycotted by their patriotic customers. On the other hand it is argued that to destroy such goods would benefit rather than harm German manufacturers, by enlarging the general market for their products.

It strikes us that this is a time to use common sense. It has been decided that Germany must pay an indemnity which is likely to run close to twenty billion dollars. How can she do it? She has not enough gold to pay one-tenth of this, and her paper money is no good. Her people have been taxed dry. We can seize her shipping, but that will still leave a tremendous balance. It is not practicable to sell her cities or farms at auction. Clearly, the Germans must work out most of their debt. They cannot pay in food, because they haven't enough to keep themselves alive. We are driven to the conclusion that they can pay the balance only in manufactured articles. If the rest of the world refuses to take those products the debt will never be paid. As for ourselves, we feel deep sympathy with those who regard German goods as "blood-stained," and hope never to see any again, but many people are not so squeamish, and we are in favor of letting them buy the goods. It is better to make the Germans work for us than to support them in idleness.

But one point should not be overlooked. It is going to be so hard to sell German products that the price will have to be made low. Naturally, this competition is calculated to drive American manufacturers out of business or compel them to reduce wages to the German standard. The only remedy for this is to establish a genuine protective tariff. This cannot be done until we have a Republican President. The late election indicates that our voters will attend to this matter in 1920, which date may not be too far distant to prevent disaster.

THE TURN OF FRENCH CULTURE

Now that boasted German "Kultur" is an exploded myth it is time for genuine French culture to have its turn. It is gratifying therefore to learn that in response to urgent invitation representative French scholars have come to this country for a lecture tour of our universities and scientific bodies. The lectures will be given in English on the different aspects of French civilization according to the specialty of the several scholars belonging to the mission. The object is to strengthen national ties by means of a closer union between the universities of the two countries.

This is as it should be. Our universities have too long yielded to the influence of German scholarship and theories of education, disregarding what France and England had to offer and ignoring the few bold spirits who ventured to contend all the while that even our own developed educational methods were superior to the German. A certain subservience to German thought and method was brought about chiefly by sleepless German propaganda. Colossal German conceit claimed everything for itself so loudly and everlastingly that there grew up an unconscious tendency to accept the claimants at their own valuation. Now that "Kultur" is knocked into a cocked hat by the war's exposures of its low level, our universities will do well to borrow from France instead, which is many respects the most highly civilized and most intelligent nation of the world.

Taking German Medicine.

A broker tells the Wall Street Journal about the commander of the American transport which brought to this country the captured crew of the U-53. The captain of the enemy submarine was a salesman in St. Louis before returning to his native land to join the colors. During the voyage he summoned the commander of the transport and inquired if he was familiar with the terms of the Hague convention. The captain answered in the affirmative, asked the reason which prompted the question.

"Because they stipulate that we should be given coffee each day at 4 o'clock," the Teuton explained. "Do we get it?"

"When the Kaiser gives some assurance of living up to The Hague treaty you will get your coffee," the American officer replied.

The Soft Reply.

It is impossible to imagine the disgust of the professional at historic St. Andrews when he observed a player taking yard after yard of finest turf in divot form on his first visit to the course. The straw that broke the camel's back came, however, when the visitor took about 16 swipes to get out of the sand trap.

"My goodness, man, where did you learn your golf?" finally exclaimed the professional.

"Why, I learned to play in Australia," wheezed the perspiring duffer, as he took another slam at the ball.

"Well, if you keep on digging you'll soon be home," replied the "pro," as he walked away.—Exchange.

Then She Complained.

The old lady was going to Pittsfield to visit a daughter, and took her seat in a railway coach for the first time in her life. During the ride the car in which she was seated was thrown down an embankment and demolished.

Crawling out from beneath the debris she spied a man who was held down in a sitting position by his legs being fastened.

"Is this Pittsfield?" she anxiously asked.

"No!" snapped the man; "this is a catastrophe!"

"Oh!" ejaculated the old lady. "Then I hadn't oughter get off here!"—Exchange.

The Heathen Chinese is Peculiar.

I walked into a Chinese laundry. It seemed to be the easiest way of getting in. He stood behind a little cage, evidently a protection against violence. He was scratching both elbows at the same time. I summoned up my best Chinese. "Very dirty washee. How longee takee? Two weekee?"

"I will endeavor to have it for you then, sir, but you know that the shortage of colored labor hampers our efficiency considerably."

Whereupon he handed me the cover of a package of firecrackers and I left the shop.—Exchange.

PRIVATE BARNHART DIED OF PNEUMONIA

Private John J. Barnhart, 27 years old, of the 6th Company, 2nd Division Battalion, at Camp Wadsworth, died Wednesday evening at the home of his mother, Mrs. John Barnhart, No. 5 Hone street, of pneumonia after an illness of about ten days. Private Barnart was ill with the influenza at Camp Wadsworth, and when he had recovered was given a furlough to return home and while here was seized with puenmonia.

Private Barnhart before entering the service was a plumber. He had served with Company M before the world war. When this country was drawn into the conflict he made thirteen attempts to enlist in the aviation corps but each time was rejected on account of his health. Then he was accepted by the draft board and was one of the selective service men who left Kingston in May of this year for Camp Wadsworth.

Private Barnhart was extremely popular and was well liked by all who knew him. By his genial personality he made hosts of friends and news of his death was received with regret.

Besides his wife he is survived by his mother, Mrs. John Barnhart, one brother, Daniel, of this city, and two sisters, the Misses Mabel and Anne, both at home. The funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the home of his mother, the Rev. P. C. Weyant, pastor of Trinity M. E. Church, officiating. The interment will be in Montrepose Cemetery.

The members of the Red Cross are busily engaged in knitting and sewing. Mrs. Ralph LeFever has charge of the yarn.

The village of Rosendale did not lack patriotism on Monday night, when peace was proclaimed. A parade was formed, marshalled by the Hon. Jacob Huben, headed by George Mattman and Wesley Clarke, with drums and Supervisor James Hasbrouck as fifer, leading citizens of the village, men, women and school children. Boy Scouts carrying flags and banners, straining their voices in patriotic songs, hats off, and cheering for the flags and decorations as they passed along the streets. The ringing of church and school bells, blazing bonfires and tar barrels added much to the affair. After parading they wended their way to the Casino, where an enthusiastic meeting was held. Addresses were made by the Rev. J. G. Cameron, Rev. J. R. Simmons and Rev. Father Higgins, who dwelt on the late conflict and its cessation, which would terminate one of the most cruel wars ever known. And as Father Higgins, in his most eloquent manner, stated, "We must thank God that it is over." Miss Coral Kelder presided at the piano, all uniting in singing "The Star Spangled Banner" and other national songs. Then Marshal Huben suggested a grand march for everyone through the spacious hall, with more singing, ending with a dance by the young people. Many thanks to Andrew Smith, of the Casino, and Mr. Huben, and also to the local clergy in assisting in the patriotic affair.

Doing One's Best Work.

To do one's best work and be one's best self involves the quiet but final acceptance of such tools as have been put into one's hands and such materials as lie about one. To be happy and useful and to contribute to the joy of life one must take up the work at hand and do it as best he may, without envy, jealousy, or strife. —The Outlook.

"Fote" Philosophy.

Monument to Genius.

Amid the ruins of the capitol at Rome, on October 15, 1764, Edward Gibbon formed the resolve to write "The Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," and on the night of June 27, 1787, nearly twenty-three years later, in the summerhouse of his garden, the last word was written, but in those laborious years Gibbon had built an enduring monument to his own genius.

Tea Blending Practical Monopoly.

The business of tea blending is peculiarly British. For 100 years Mincing lane has blended tea for the whole world and brought the work into the region of an exact science.

Taking Notes.

When you take notes let them be brief, sharp, in open order, so a glance will give you a bird's-eye view of your whole scheme. For instance: "John J. Jones—ex-mayor—38 automatic—9 a. m.—3456 Wabash—ill-health—12—born Springfield, O.—Cornell—Country Club, Golf Club—$100,000—wife, Maria; children, Mary, John, William—Sunday 2 Trinity—Mt. Evergreen." Make your copy fast, devoid of deadwood like "that" and "which." Pick your own shorthand. For instance, "Nw tm ail gd me cm aid prty." or "sldr. btlin. dvsn. emfig trnsprt, Ksr. btleship. arpln."—A. S. Paine in Pep (Cleveland).

Inconsistent.

Lots of men spend half of their time complaining of life's brevity and the other half in trying to kill time.

Memorials of the Famous.

Interesting memorials have been sold at Plas Newydd, Llangollen, North Wales. Included amongst the unique contents of the old house were memorials of the Duke of Wellington, Madame de Genlis, Southey, Wordsworth, Lord Edward Fitzgerald, and many other famous personages with whom the "Ladies of Llangollen" were contemporaneous.

Alleviates Earache.

If earache does not occur often possibly home treatment will alleviate the suffering, which is always so severe while it lasts. Wring out hot cloths and apply them to the ear. This often brings quick relief. Or moisten a small piece of cotton, saturated with sweet oil or laudanum and place it carefully in the ear. This is generally beneficial if the trouble is caused by the hardening of the wax.

GRIFFIN IN CALIFORNIA.

Wilbur Avenue Boy Tells of Trip Across Continent.

Mrs. George Griffin of 152 Wilbur avenue, has received from her son, Sergeant W. F. Griffin, of the 216th Engineers, a letter describing his trip from Camp Humphreys, Ala., to Camp Kearny, Cal. He is much pleased with the change. Like many others he thinks California is "God's Country." The letter follows:

Camp Kearny, Cal., Oct. 29, 1918.

Dear Mother and Father:

I am here safe and sound and in good health. This is sure some country out here and believe me it is very warm out here. We are in quarantine here for five days and living in tents, and it was very cold here last night. I thought I would freeze to death.

This is some camp here. It has it on the Humphreys. There are two big theaters and all kinds of fun here. We are 15 miles from San Diego up on a high hill. There are large parade grounds as level as can be. There is an aviation field here nearby and the aeroplanes fly over us all day. Last evening there were seven of them flying over our company. They were doing all kinds of tricks in the air, but the ground is high enough for me.

Well, I had a great trip. It took us seven days and eight nights to come here and I saw a whole lot and learned the way people live.

Well, as I have said before, we left Humphreys at 3:25 p. m. and our first stop was Richmond. Very nice city as far as we could see, but Birmingham, Ala., was the next big city we stopped and they treated us royally. The Red Cross gave us cards and candy and apples and paid the postage for us. I sent 15 cards from there. We were in Meridian, Miss., and had a big time. We gave them a parade and they were good to us. Next we came to Algiers, La. That is across the river from New Orleans, but anyway before we went through New Orleans we ran past a swamp and that was at 4 a. m. The mosquitoes were so thick that they came in the car and my how they did bite us up. All the boys got up and I wish you could hear about the cussing. I have bumps yet on me from their bites. They ferried us across the Mississippi and put us in Algiers for six hours and we had a great time and then we left for the golden west. I saw thousands of acres of sugar cane and cotton and San Antonio, Texas, was the next stop we made. They took us to the Y. M. C. A. and gave us a bath. My, but it was great, and we needed it. And there I saw Kelly's Field No. 2, where John spent his first day in the army. It is a grand place with lots of aeroplanes around. Then we went to El Paso, Tex. That was a great city and my, we had lots of fun there. We bought 15 horns in the 5 and 10 cent store and paraded around the town. We went into one ten cent store, about 15 of us, and tooting our horns we paraded up and down the aisles. They thought that Coxey's army was loose. Tucson, Ariz., was the next stop and it was 6 a. m. The Red Cross was there and gave us cards and apples. Then we came to Yuma, Ariz. Some town. There were real Indians there with all their loud colors and war paint and bare feet. Little low buildings and they were made of mud.

I saw thousands of Mexicans and they are worse than the Indians. They too live in mud houses or anything that affords shelter. They are a dirty low bunch. The country from San Antonio to here was almost a desert. I hardly believed we moved a mile at night; it looked all the same to me. No trees for hundreds of miles and even the mountains were bare, but when we crossed the Colorado river then we came into God's country, Cal. The palm trees were beautiful and when we struck the Pacific Ocean, why, it was wonderful. I passed through Riverside, Cal., and it was a beautiful place, and then we went up a big hill and we were in Camp Kearny, Cal. In Arizona and Texas I saw coyotes, prairie dogs and jacks. In California I saw wild ducks and also a big crane. So I think I will close. I am your loving son,

SERGT. WILL.

ON BOARD SHIP.

Sergeant Hungerford Didn't Miss Any Meals.

Mrs. [illegible] of 132 Pine street, has received the following letter from her brother, Sergeant Walter Hungerford, written while crossing the Atlantic:

Dear Sister:

Your letter about razor blades received some time ago but could not answer as time was short.

I am well, having a good time. Hope you and everybody else are well.

I am sticking it out fine, have not been seasick yet.

This is a fine ship and lots of fun, plenty to eat, a good place to sleep. The weather has been bad ever since we started, rained every day, the ship rocks so it makes me sleepy. Hope Irving is well by this time. Well I haven't anything more to write so I will close with love and best wishes. As ever, your brother,

SERGT. WALTER HUNGERFORD.

WE OPEN TOYLAND

Why We Are Opening Toyland Earlier Than Usual

The Government needs men and women.

They will not allow stores to put on extra help this Christmas.

The Government needs coal. So in order to conserve fuel and light, they will not allow stores to be open extra hours around Christmas time.

The Government has asked all stores to curtail deliveries. Therefore there will be no extra deliveries at Christmas time.

Now it is up to us to show our patriotism by complying to the requests of our Government and up to our patrons to respect their wishes.

Will you do your shopping early?

It May Seem a Bit Out of Place to be thinking about TOYS just now. But where the requests of our Government is concerned, as in this instance, one can well afford to disregard the impulse to wait until the holiday season to purchase TOYS.

Now the Point Is This—

To buy TOYS now at this time will be an expression of patriotism and a help to our Government to promote early Christmas shopping for the conservation of man power; and a little extra forethought in planning your purchases will make this plan a success.

The Price Problem Grows More Serious Every Day Also—

and some TOYS in our present complete assortments would be hard to replace at any price. But in accordance with our usual custom, we prepared as we always do, far in advance for this annual event. Many of the values we secured cannot be duplicated now for less than half as much again.

For Those Who Wish to Comply with This Request—and will buy TOYS now, from our complete showing, we will on payment of a small deposit, store them until December 20th.

And So We Are Open for Christmas Business at

LUCKEY, PLATT & CO.

Potato Chowder.

One-third cup salt pork, cut in ½ inch cubes, 1 onion, sliced, 3 cups boiling water, 2 cups thinly sliced potatoes, ½ cup finely diced carrot, ¼ teaspoon celery salt, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika, 2 cups hot milk, 6 common crackers.

Cook the salt pork and the onion together slowly for 10 minutes; add the boiling water, and strain into chowder kettle; add the potatoes, the carrots and the seasonings and cook about 15 minutes, or until the potatoes and carrots are tender. Add the hot milk and the crackers; cook for 5 minutes, the bits of pork and onion may be left in the chowder if desired.

Gingerbread With Apple Variation.

One-half cup fat, 1½ cups molasses, 1 cup boiling water, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon ginger, 1 cup corn flour, 1 cup buckwheat flour, 2 eggs.

Cream the fat and add the molasses and boiling water. Add the sifted dry ingredients to the first mixture. Add the eggs last. Spread the apple sauce ½ inch thick over the bottom of the bottom of the pan. Pour the molasses batter over the sauce and bake it in a moderate oven. The Stroller Hears That Indications Point to Another Jump in Coal Prices Due to Fact of Miners' Pay Being Boosted.

"Well I see by the papers where the coal miners have had their pay boosted another dollar a day," remarked the busy barber as he tucked an apron around a customer's neck and began to lather his face.

"I am glad to see them get it," replied the customer.

"You won't be when you come to order some more coal," retorted the barber crisply.

"How is that?" queried the customer assuming a more comfortable posture in the chair.

"Every time a big manufacturing industry of trade boosts the pay of their workmen," explained the barber, "it simply means that the increase is showed along to the consumer."

"Shoot it along," said the customer as the barber paused to apply some more hot water to the lather.

"I tell you fair," continued the barber, "this here increase in pay of a dollar simply means that the dollar will be added to the price you and I will have to pay and not only the dollar but a little more to when the middleman gets through with the price and shoves it along to the retailer and the retailer on to the public."

"What it means," continued the barber, "is that I won't be surprised to see coal selling for $10 a ton this winter right here in Kingston."

"I hope you are wrong," interrupted the customer.

"You are hoping wrong," replied the barber, "but just the same all things considered coal has not jumped in price as much as other necessary articles. Take flour for instance a few years ago you could buy a good barrel of flour for $3.50 and and today you would be lucky to get the same quality for $12, which is a boost of about three times the original price."

"What's the idea of raising the miners pay then?" asked the customer.

"I suppose the munition plants and shipyards have been paying such high pay the miners have been seeking jobs there," replied the barber.

KINGSTON TO WEST COAST OF FLORIDA

Description of 1,400 Mile Auto Trip to Southland by Resident of This City—Praise for the Flowery State.

Lynn Haven,
Florida,
Nov. 1, 1918.

To Editor of The Freeman:

I have just completed a trip to the west coast of Florida by automobile, covering over fourteen hundred miles as the crow flies, including the twistings and turnings through forests and jungles, over hill and dale. I am not a practical writer for a newspaper, so the readers of The Freeman will please excuse me if I am not up to date in that line and overlook the same. If I wrote all I saw I would have taken notes, and they would fill a small volume, but having taken no notes I write from merory entirely, so I will just give a few points on the most important things I saw on the way, as I am a resident of your city and have many friends there and throughout Ulster county, who would be interested in reading a letter from one they know who is now in the southland. We toured through New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, District of Columbia, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, into Florida. The most important cities passed through were Trenton, Philadelphia, Wilmington, Baltimore, Washington, Richmond, Raleigh, Columbia, Augusta and Macon. We found the roads good, bad and indifferent. Some of them very indifferent, but the most of them very good. The roads through the state of Georgia were fine. The road work in that state is done by convict labor. We saw several gangs at work with chains on their ankles, of sufficient length for them to move around nicely, with a guard over them with shot gun or rifle to prevent them from escaping. Even at that, now and then one would make his escape.

Corn and cotton seemed to be the prevailing crop all through, yet we saw many changes in Virginia and other states. In Virginia, tobacco and peanuts were extensively raised; North Carolina, peanuts and cotton; South Carolina, principally cotton. We saw thousands of acres of cotton wasting for want of help to gather it, on account of the scarcity of labor. We passed through Central Georgia, the great peach belt, where the country was covered for miles with the finest peach orchards the sun ever shone on, many growers owning plantations of thousands of acres. The peach crop was a great paying crop this year on account of the failure in many sections this year. One place where we put up for the night, the man told us of a large grower in his section, who had cleared one million of dollars off his crop this year. This was an exception, as he was one of the largest growers in the country.

Then after passing through the peach belt, we ran into a section where pecans were grown extensively, and said to be a very good paying crop also. The south is surely a wonderful country. Passing through it we came to the little town of Andersonville, where the famous Confederate prison was located, a spot of ground very sacred to the memory of those unfortunates that were confined there. No tongue can tell the sufferings that they endured through the inhuman treatment of Henri Wirz, the commandant of the prison. The first thing that greets the eye in coming into the town or alightning from the train is the monument of Wirz. In reading the lettering on the shaft, it makes him out a wonderful man, a martyr, who died for his country and the cause he was fighting for. His monument is, I should think, about a quarter of a mile from the cemetery. It should never have been erected on American soil as it is a disgrace. We spent some time in the cemetery, where thousands of our brave boys are sleeping, viewing the monuments, tracing the line of the old stockade, which is now obliterated and now traced by markers, and took a good look at Providence Spring and a good drink. The water was fine, and being thirsty, we enjoyed it very much.

We have been here in Florida a week and have not learned very much about the possibilities of this town, Lynn Haven. It is a new place, situated on St. Andrew's Bay, one of the finest and most beautiful bodies of water to be found in the United States, about 16 miles to its outlet in the Gulf of Mexico. It is a perfect paradise for fishermen, only 16 miles to the finest tarpon fishing. The town was started first in 1911-12. Its growth has been slow and since the war there has been nothing doing in the line of building, but is destined to become a place of considerable importance, on account of its fine harbor and climate. It has about three thousand inhabitants in the summer and more in the winter, as a great many that winter here, go north in the spring. Florida was at one time considered a death trap and people were advised to give it a wide berth, but people have found out from experience that this is not so and have found it the healthiest state in the union. Not wishing to tire your readers with too lenghty a letter, will close for this time.

Your very truly,

Let's take care of him till he comes down the gang-plank!

WHEN he gets through fighting, let's show him what we think of what he has done! Don't let any one tell you that the work of these seven organizations will be over when the war is over? That's when their greatest value will come.

Today every energy of your fighter is bent on victory. And when it comes, when the strain of training and fighting is over—then will come his reaction. That's when he will need most the entertainment and diversion supplied by these organizations. That's when he will want movies and concerts and ball-games and track meets to keep up his spirits in the inevitable delay before he comes home.

Don't forget that it will take many months to bring back our army from France.

Plans for the work of these organizations during the period of demobilization were mapped out long before the prospect of peace was even as near as it is today.

There will be a regular "university in khaki" in France, for one thing. Our fighters will be able to make profitable use of their leisure—to fit themselves for bigger things when they get back into civil life, for better jobs. They have learned to learn in the Army and Navy. Text books, lectures and class-rooms must be provided to help them prepare for advancement after they return. The country's greatest educators are in uniform now, ready for this work.

And besides, don't forget that we all are going to owe the integrity of our country to your fighter and the boys like him. We sent them away with a cheer. We are going to welcome them home with a roar! And we are going to look after them just as carefully all the way back as we looked after them all the way over.

Whenever peace comes, the hardest job of these seven organizations will come with it. The nearer it comes, the more you must give!

Why you should give twice as much as you ever gave before!

The need is for a sum 70% greater than any gift ever asked for since the world began. The Government has fixed this sum at $170,500,000.

By giving to these seven organizations all at once, the cost and effort of six additional campaigns is saved.

Unless Americans do give twice as much as ever before, our soldiers and sailors may not enjoy during 1919 their:

3600 Recreation Buildings
1000 Miles of Movie Film
100 Leading Stage Stars
2000 Athletic Directors
2500 Libraries supplying 5,000,000 books
85 Hostess Houses
15,000 Big-brother "secretaries"
Millions of dollars of home comforts

When you give double, you make sure that every fighter has the cheer and comforts of these seven organizations every step of the way from home to the front and back again. You provide him with a church, a theatre, a cheerful home, a store, a school, a club and an athletic field—and a knowledge that the folks back home are with him, heart and soul!

You have loaned your money to supply their physical needs.

Now give to maintain the Morale that is winning the war!

SUSTAIN'S DECISION OF SURROGATE

Surrogate Gill Affirmed by the Appellate Division in Matter of Accounting on Carnright Estate.

The interests in the above estates were assigned to Albert Carnright, deceased, during his life. After the contesting of the will of Albert Carnright, which was admitted to probate, Anna Houghtaling Greene claimed she had bought the interest of the children of Ezra Carnright. Cameron A. Traver claimed he had purchased an interest in the Sophia Carnright estate and William M. Teetsell claimed he had purchased an interest from other heirs of the Sophia Carnright Estate. Surrogate Gill disallowed their claims and held that they had no claim against those estate and that whatever was coming from the above estates went to the Albert Carnright estate.

The Appellate Division has just handed down a decision affirming the surrogate's judgment and finding as a fact that the appellants did not take their assignments in good faith.

Brinnier, Canfield & Brinnier, represented the Albert Carnright estate, while Howard Chipp and Benjamin Rowe represented the persons claiming the assignments which the courts have held were no good

STEADIER HOG MARKETS PLANNED

Hog Producers and Packers Confer With Representatives of the Food Administration and Agricultural Department and Adopt New Plan of Regulation.

In accordance with the policy of the Food Administration since its foundation to consult representative men in the agricultural industry on occasions of importance to special branches of the industry, on October 24 there was convened in Washington a meeting of the Live Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board and the special members representing the swine industry to consider the situation in the hog market.

The conference lasted for three days, and during this time met with the executive committee of the fifty packing firms participating in foreign orders for pork products and with the members of the Food Administration directing foreign pork purchases.

The conclusions of the conference were as follows:

The entire marketing situation has so changed since the September joint conference as to necessitate an entire alteration in the plans of price stabilization. The current peace talk has alarmed the holders of corn, and there has been a price decline of from 25 cents to 40 cents per bushel. The fact that the accumulations of low priced corn in the Argentine and South Africa would, upon the advent of peace and liberated shipping, become available to the European market has created a great deal of apprehension on the part of corn holders. This decline has spread fear among swine growers that a similar reduction in the prices of hogs would naturally follow. Moreover, the lower range of corn prices would, if incorporated in a 13-to-1 ratio, obviously result in a continuously falling price for live hogs. In view of these changed conditions many swine producers anticipated lower prices and as a result rushed their hogs to market in large numbers, and this overshipment has added to and aggravated the decline.

The information of the Department of Agriculture indicates that the supply of hogs has increased about 8 per cent, while the highest unofficial estimate does not exceed 15 per cent. increased production over last year. On the other hand, the arrival of hogs during the last three weeks in the seven great markets has been 27 per cent. more than last year, during the corresponding period, demonstrating the unusually heavy marketing of the available supply. In the face of the excessive receipts some packers have not maintained the price agreed last month. On the other hand, many of the packers have paid over the price offered to them in an endeavor to maintain the agreed price. The result in any event has been a failure to maintain the October price basis determined upon at the September conference and undertaken by the packers. Another factor contributing to the break in prices during the month has been the influenza epidemic; it has sharply curtailed consumption of pork products and temporarily decreased the labor staff of the packers about 25 per cent.

The exports of 130,000,000 pounds of pork products for October compared with about 52,000,000 pounds in October a year ago, and the export orders placeable by the Food Administration for November, amount to 170,000,000 pounds as contrasted with the lesser exports of 98,000,000 for November, 1917. The increased demands of the allies are continuing, and are in themselves proof of the necessity for the large production for which the Food Administration asked. The increase in export demands appears to be amply sufficient to take up the increase in hog production, but unfavorable market conditions existing in October afford no fair index of the aggregate supply and demand.

It must be evident that the enormous shortage in fats in the Central Empires and neutral countries would immediately upon peace result in additional demands for pork products which, on top of the heavy shipments to the Allies, would tend materially to increase the American exports, inasmuch as no considerable reservoir of supplies exists outside of the United States. It seems probable that the present prospective supplies would be inadequate to meet this world demand with the return to peace. So far as it is possible to interpret this fact, it appears that there should be even a stronger demand for pork products after the war, and therefore any alarm of hog producers as to the effect of peace is unwarranted by the outlook.

In the light of these circumstances it is the conclusion of the conference that attempts to hold the price of hogs to the price of corn may work out to the disadvantage of pork producers. It is the conclusion that any interpretation of the formula should be a broad gauged policy applied over a long period. It is the opinion of the conference that in substitution of the previous plans of stabilization the Live Stock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board, together with the specially invited swine representatives, should accept the invitation of the Food Administration to join with the Administration and the packers in determining the prices at which controlled export orders are to be placed. This will be regularly done. The influence of these orders will be directed to the maintenance of the common object—namely, the stabilization of the price of live hogs so as to secure as far as it is possible fair returns to the producer and the insurance of an adequate future supply.

These foreign orders are placed upon the basis of cost of hogs to the packers.

As the result of long negotiations between this body and the Packers' Committee, representing the 45 to 50 packers participating in foreign orders, together with the Allied buyers, all under the Chairmanship of the Food Administration, the following undertaking has been given by the packers:

In view of the undertakings on the part of the Food Administration with regard to the co-ordinated purchases of pork products, covered in the attached, it is agreed that the packers participating in these orders will undertake not to purchase hogs for less than the following agreed minimums, for the month of November, that is a daily minimum of $17.50 per hundred pounds on average of packers' droves, excluding throw-outs. "Throw-outs" to be defined as pigs under 130 pounds, stags, boars, thin sows and skips. Further that no hogs of any kind shall be bought, except throw-outs, at less than $16.50 per hundred pounds. The average of packers' droves to be construed as the average of the total sales in the market of all hogs for a given day. All the above to be based on Chicago.

We agree that a committee shall be appointed by the Food Administration to check the daily operations in the various markets with a view to supervision and demonstration of the carrying out of the above.

The ability of the packers to carry out this arrangement will depend on there being a normal marketing of hogs based upon the proportionate increase over the receipts of last year. The increase in production appears to be a maximum of about 15 per cent. and we can handle such an increase.

If the producers of hogs should, as they have in the past few weeks, prematurely market hogs in such increasing numbers over the above it is entirely beyond the ability of the packers to maintain these minimums, and therefore we must have the co-operation of the producer himself to maintain these results. It is a physical impossibility for the capacity of the packing houses to handle a similar over-flood of hogs and to find a market for the output. The packers are anxious to co-operate with the producers in maintaining a stabilization of price and to see that producers receive a fair price for their products.

(Signed) THOS. E. WILSON,
Chairman Packers' Committee.

The plan embodied above was adopted by the conference.

The Food Administrator has appointed a committee, comprising Mr. Thomas E. Wilson, chairman of the Packers' Committee; Mr. Everett Brown, president of the Chicago Livestock Exchange; Major Roy of the Food Administration, Mr. Louis D. Hall of the Bureau of Markets, to undertake the supervision of the execution of the plan in the various markets. Commission men are asked to co-operate in carrying out the plan embodied in the packers' agreement. It must be evident that offers by commission men to sell hogs below the minimum established above is not fair, either to the producer or the participating packers. Mr. Brown has undertaken on behalf of the commission men in the United States that they will loyally support the plan.

It is believed by the conference that this new plan, based as it is upon a positive minimum basis, will bring better results to the producer than average prices for the month. It does not limit top prices and should narrow the margins necessary to country buyers in more variable markets. It is believed that the plan should work out close to $18 average.

Swine producers of the country will contribute to their own interest by not flooding the market, for it must be evident that if an excessive over percentage of hogs is marketed in any one month price stabilization and control cannot succeed, and it is certain that producers themselves can contribute materially to the efforts of the conferences if they will do their marketing in as normal a way as possible.

The whole situation as existing at present demands a frank and explicit assurance from the conferees represented—namely, that every possible effort will be made to maintain a live hog price commensurate with swine production costs and reasonable selling values in execution of the declared policy of the Food Administration to use every agency in its control to secure justice to the farmer.

The stabilization methods adopted for November represent the best efforts of the conference, concurred in by the Food Administration and the Livestock Subcommittee of the Agricultural Advisory Board, together with special swine members and the representatives of the packers, to improve the present unsatisfactory situation, which has unfortunately resulted because of the injection of uncontrollable factors.

We ask the producer to co-operate with us in a most difficult task.

The members of the Conference were:

Producers—H. C. Stuart, Elk Garden, Va., Chairman Agricultural Advisory Board; W. M. McFadden, Chicago, Ill.; A. Sykes, Ida Grove, Ia.; John M. Evvard, Ames, Ia.; J. H. RUST IS AN ENEMY TO TIRES

Rims Should Be Carefully Cleaned With Emery and Japanned to Prevent Deterioration.

It will pay the motorist to inspect occasionally the condition of the rims on the wheels of his car, especially if the outer surfaces of the casings near the beads look rusty.

This discoloration is rust caused by rusted rims, and rust if not arrested will gradually eat through the rubber, attacking the canvas of the tire. In time the edges of the rusted rims will become more and more uneven, tearing and eventually destroying the beads. Furthermore, rust works in between the beads and the rims, leaving space for water, which also damages the rubber.

To remove rust from a rim, the tire should be taken off and the rusty parts rubbed clean with coarse emery paper. Then smooth the surface with finer emery paper and re-japan the rim, applying one coat to the outside and two to the inside, making sure first that the surface is smooth and free from rust.

MAKING GOOD "RUST JOINT"

Directions Given for Making Reasonably Satisfactory Job Where Welding Is Not Possible.

It is possible to make a fairly satisfactory repair of a cracked water jacket or of a fault in a casting, by what is known as a "rust joint." To perform this operation take ten parts of fine iron filings, one part of sal ammoniac, and a half part of flowers of sulphur; mix all these ingredients into paste with water and apply to the fracture, allowing the compound to become hard. Of course the ideal repair for this sort of thing is welding, but this operation is not always possible and the above makes a reasonably satisfactory temporary repair.

Evolution of the Lady Barber.

Some of you men seem to think that woman is not qualified to take her place at the barber chair. She's been trimming man ever since the first Hector was a pup; she took to singeing man's contentment the moment she spotted Adam trying to determine who he was a rib shy; and she began to shave when the first efficient male idiot decided that a weekly allowance for household expenses was the proper thing.—Letter in New York Sun.

U. S. HONORS HAIG AND FOCH

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Nov. 14.—Field Marshal Haig, commander of the British army, is to receive the American Distinguished Service medal from General Pershing, the presentation being made in the name of President Wilson at British great headquarters.

General Tasker H. Bliss, representative of the American army at the Versailles council, has been decorated by General Pershing in the name of the president.

Marshal Foch was decorated by General Pershing in the name of the American president on Tuesday. Yesterday Marshal Joffre and General Petain were similarly honored.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Details of the presentation of the Distinguished Service Medal to Marshal Foch by General Pershing were received today in a wireless dispatch to the French high commission.

Marshal Foch expressed his thanks to President Wilson and General Pershing and said that he would always be "happy and proud to wear the decoration." At the presentation ceremonies he said that his thoughts sometimes went back to the serious and critical times through which he and General Pershing had passed and that he would never forget the tragic day last March when General Pershing came to him and unreservedly placed all the resources of the American army at his disposal.

Speaking of later events Marshal Foch alluded to the sharp and continued battles fought by the American army, despite the bad condition of the soil and which, after lasting ten months ended in complete victory. This success, Marshal Foch declared, was due to a "broad and correct conception of the position by the command, good staff work and the soldiers' unfailing determination to conquer."

The marshal, deeply moved, added that the American army was fully entitled to place the name of the Meuse on its standards. Taking General Pershing's hand he thanked him profoundly and said that he would always remember "the wonderful days during which they had fought together for liberty and justice and civilization."

General Pershing also presented Distinguished Service medals to Marshal Joffre and General Petain.

PLATTEKILL.

Plattekill, Nov. 14.—The assurance of peace with warring nations was fittingly observed with celebrations on Monday, November 11, in Plattekill.

Several people are practicing for a play to be given in the M. E. Church soon. Date and particulars will be announced in The Freeman later.

Luther Terwilliger has been appointed captain of the war chest drive in District No. 2, town of Plattekill.

An airplane passing over this village Saturday caused some exciting admiration.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Brannan and son, Raymond, of Walden spent Saturday and night with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wager.

Mr. and Mrs. William St. John spent Sunday at Marlborough.

Mr. and Mrs. William Lowny and daughter, Jennie, for many years residents of this place, now of Washingtonville, are moving to Massachusetts.

Mrs. A. Terwilliger and son are planning to move to New York city in the near future.

Freston Palfridge and Russell Carson each have had the luck of catching a raccoon.

District School No. 8 was reopened Tuesday, after being closed three weeks, due to the influenza epidemic.

BLOOMINGTON.

Bloomington, Nov. 14.—Willis DuBois and family moved on Wednesday to Kingston. They will be greatly missed in this community, in the church and in different places.

Mr. and Mrs. Silas Castor and children, of Binnewater, and Miss Christina C. Hess, of Kingston, visited their mother, Mrs. Hess, who has been ill, but is improving.

Mrs. Ransom Kron, who has been ill for a few weeks, is able to go out now and has gone to visit her mother, Mrs. Edward Fagher, of Kingston, for a few days.

The Ladies' Aid Society will hold a hot chicken supper on Thursday evening, November 21, in the basement of the church. Chicken, hot biscuits, mashed potatoes and all other good things which go with the supper, all for the small sum of 40 cents, beginning at 5:30 p. m. Also ice cream will be on sale. Everybody invited to come and have a good time.

Navy Can Spare Many.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The navy is in a position to release 50,000 men in the course of the next month, Secretary Daniels announced today. Applications for release will be considered immediately from young men who wish to return to college and who sacrificed business interests in order to join. There are now more than 500,000 men in the navy, the secretary said, and of this number, 50,000 easily can be spared without interfering with the efficiency of this arm of the service. The vacancies occurring from these discharges will be filled from the training camps, it was stated.

Germans Mutiny At Brussels.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 14.—The German garrison at Brussels mutinied and killed the officers, said a dispatch from the British front today, quoting a neutral who had just arrived from Brussels.

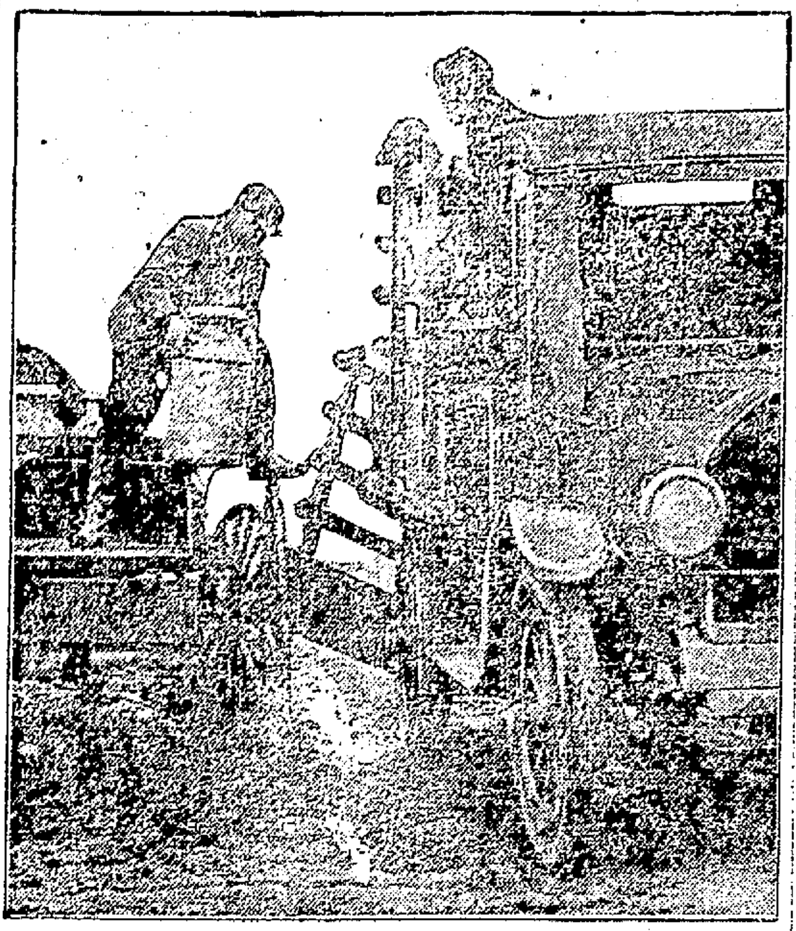
Discipline.

"The discipline in base hospitals in France precludes social relations between nurses and enlisted men. This is occasionally carried to extremes, as evidenced by the following incident. A certain nurse was found ringing the doorbell of the officers' quarters early one morning. When asked what she wanted, she replied that the villa in which she and the other nurses were quartered was on fire. After the fire had been extinguished, she was asked why she didn't give the alarm at once, instead of running the long distance to the officers' quarters. Her reply was: 'We aren't allowed to speak to enlisted men.'"—From the Journal of the American Medical Association.

Pig Club Membership Increases.

One hundred thousand boys and girls are now members of pig clubs. This is more than twice the number enrolled last year, when [illegible] members produced approximately [illegible] pounds of dressed pork. These boys and girls are raising pigs under the supervision of local pig club leaders who are cooperating with the state colleges and the United States department of agriculture.

RURAL EXPRESS SERVICE SOLVES FOOD TRANSPORTATION PROBLEM IN CAPITAL



To help carry foodstuffs to American cities the highway transport committee of the council of national defense has evolved a nation-wide plan for rural express service to the centers of population from nearby productive regions.

A special study has been made of food delivery systems into Washington, which shows that in the face of a growing increase in population, which already has added 100,000 new residents to the District of Columbia's total, practically no new means has been created to feed this added population.

The committee is now experimenting on the rural express service. Not only do the trucks haul food into Washington, but they do an extensive business in carrying goods from Washington merchants to the farmers.

The autotruck meets the farmer and takes aboard his load of milk.

PRIVATE GARAGE IS INEXPENSIVE

Motor Life Gives Illuminating Aid to Car Owners in Construction of Building.

SAND FLOOR IS PREFERRED

Grease, Gasoline and Water Are Absorbed Instead of Staying to Mess Things Up—Much Easier on Tires of Standing Cars.

A new department has been started in Motor Life. In it the motorist finds practical experience to guide him in building the inexpensive private garage, with comprehensive plans and notes.

Some of the advice is illuminating: "If you prefer you may have a cement floor in the garage, but for several years past I have used fine white sand about three inches deep. The cost is about $1 or $2 a cubic yard and three yards will be ample for your needs. Grease, gasoline and water are absorbed instead of staying to mess things up. Occasionally you rake the floor to bring the clean sand to the top. A little heap at the far end makes a most convenient bumper and lessens the chances of banging into the rear wall, I've found. Finally, sand is far easier than cement on the tires of standing cars. The shoe is not flattened out at the point of contact but makes a slight bed for itself to keep its normal shape. This is really a very important point, especially for folk who lay up their cars for a long time.

Wash Car in Comfort.

"By all means have a hydrant just inside your garage, then in severe or stormy weather you can wash the car in some sort of comfort. Most folk would advise an underground gasoline tank too, but that depends on circumstances. Since the early part of the winter I have not been able to get gasoline in any quantity. The few gallons I did manage to bring home barely sufficed to run my pumping engine and small electric-light plant. A large underground tank would have been a useless investment. Anyway, like most country folk, I have a little oil house to hold kerosene, gasoline and lubricating oils. This house is about six feet square, is covered with corrugated iron and stands at a safe distance from all other buildings. On a small suburban or city lot this sort of thing could not be built and a little underground tank is almost a necessity.

Heat Not Necessary.

"Naturally, it is out of the question to heat such a garage as this, but I fancy mighty few garages will be heated next winter. It makes little difference, after all, for a mixture of one part wood alcohol to two parts water will stay liquid under any ordinary temperature. And cylinders protected with [illegible] will [illegible] at the first [illegible], no matter how cold."

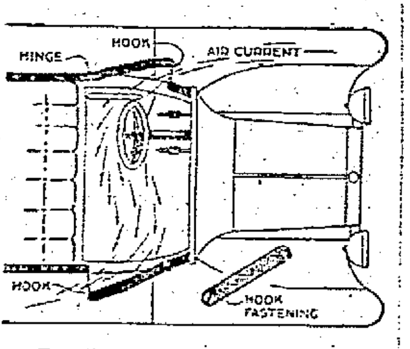
Loss of Power and Wear.

The dirt collected on the outside of the engine is not merely an eyesore. It gets into the bearings and causes loss of power and wear. This shortens the life of the engine. If the dirt is removed regularly this wear is prevented, and the car will last longer.

GOOD VENTILATION FOR AUTO

Cool Air Furnished to Front Compartment of Machines, Usually Hot in Summer Time.

The front compartment of some automobiles is uncomfortably hot during the summer months, particularly in small cars provided with a rigid nonventilating type of windshield and a blind door at the side of the driver, says Popular Mechanics. To eliminate this condition the blind door was changed into a hinged one. With tin shears and a saw the false door was cut out along the molding. A wooden frame was made for the cut-out door, to which it was screwed. Suitable wooden blocks were fastened to the body for the hinge and lock, these parts being purchased at a cost of 60 cents. Instead of having the door hinged forward, the hinge was placed at the rear. Metal fasteners were made for each door and these secured as door hooks. These fasteners hold the doors open about three inches, and when driving, a stream of cool air enters the front-opening door, passing out at the opposite side. This change, which cost less than $5, is well worth the price for the convenience alone, making entry and exit from the driver's seat possible without disturbing a person in the seat at his side.



Excellent Ventilation Afforded.

IMPRESSED BY MOTORTRUCK

Farmers Could Not Help but See Value of Machines as They Carried Immense Loads.

Farmers in nearly all parts of the United States have had impressed upon them the value of the motortruck for farm work. The railroad congestion and the shortage of railroad equipment made it particularly necessary during the past five or six months to send new trucks overland from the factories and to handle large quantities of freight, such as ordinarily would have been handled by the railroads, by using motortrucks. These conditions took the trucks out into the farming districts in greater numbers and with greater frequency than ever before. Farmers saw them hauling immense loads on the paved roads and on the ordinary roads of the country and could not help being impressed.

MOTOMETER IS EASILY READ

New Type of Device Is Legible at Distance of 12 Feet—Dial Is Quite Large.

A new type of motometer, designed to be legible at a distance of 12 feet is now offered by the concern which manufactures the most widely accepted of these devices. Instead of the familiar column of red fluid, fluctuating thermometer-wise, the instrument shows a large dial, reading "Cold, Cool, Warm, Hot," across which a white, easily seen needle moves in a quarter circle from left to right.

To Kingston Milk Consumers:

The Federal Food Board announced the wholesale and retail price of milk on October 26th, upon the basic price to be paid to the dairymen, the advance to them being 2½ cents a quart over the August price. The new price began November 1st. The retail price to consumers in Kingston is one cent less on quarts and 2 cents less on pints than that allowed in New York city. The local dealers, however, must pay the dairymen the same price as paid by the New York dealer.

Beginning November 18th, 1918, the price of milk in Kingston will be as follows:

Grade B Bottled Milk, in quarts	15 cents
Grade B Bottled Milk, in pints	[illegible] cents
Grade B Bottled Milk, to stores	13½ cents
Grade B Bottled Milk by stores	15 cents
Quarts to Hotels, Restaurants and Lunch Wagons	12½ cents
Sweet Cream, per quart	$1.00
Sweet Cream, per pint	[illegible]
Sweet Cream, per half pint	[illegible]

Although the Kingston dealers must pay the dairymen the advanced price beginning November 1st, the advance to consumers will not be effective until the 18th entailing considerable loss to the dealers.

Taking No Chances.

[illegible] "I will if they won't call it marry."

Art in Coins.

To the general student of art and history the greatest interest of coins arises from the fact that they form the earliest portrait gallery of royal personages. The oldest authentic portraits of English kings are those of Edward IV and Richard III.

Roman Soldiers' "Smokes."

Records recently discovered show that the Roman soldiers in Caesar's time had their pipes. Of course they knew nothing about real tobacco, as that had not at that period been discovered. However, they did have pipes and they smoked lavender and hemp, and from all accounts they liked it and it served almost the same purpose. In fact, it is said to have been a great solace and stimulus to the soldiers.

Accuracy Better Than Speed.

People who go in for speed records are not as wise as they think they are, for speed without accuracy is of no avail. True, time is at a premium in every line these days and we should not under any circumstances waste a minute unnecessarily. But if we aren't sure about any phase of our work we must take sufficient time to go into it and not rely on chance to help us where we can possibly help ourselves.

Shopping With a Magnet.

Carry a magnet when you go shopping. It will tell you before you purchase whether the metal buttons, the hooks and eyes and clasps for sale at notion counter, or those attached to clothing or gloves you may consider buying are going to rust or not when they are laundered. Just touch the magnet to the hook or clasp, and if it clings to them, they will rust.

Twenty-Four Hour Time in China.

In China time is calculated on a basis of a 24-hour stretch instead of two 12-hour periods, as we are still doing. This is indicated by a time table of the Shanghai-Nanking railway. We have, for instance, Tangyang, 12:39; Chinkiang, 12:52; Nanking, 14:15; Pukow, 15:30. Italy also is using 24-hour time. The day begins at one o'clock in the morning and ends with midnight as 24 o'clock.

Renovate Wallpaper.

To give wallpaper a much longer life, every year wipe the walls with a cloth wrung quite dry out of warm soapsuds. When the wallpaper is dry coat it with a wall tint. If there is a figure in the paper, this figure will show a darker shade of the same tint. Each year wash off the tint a little, then apply another coat of the same shade.

Coconut Shell Baskets.

Really attractive hanging baskets for ferns may be easily constructed from half shells of coconuts. When three holes, at points equidistant from each other, have been pierced around the edge of the opening, and wires slipped through and caught up to fasten to a hook in the ceiling, the basket is complete and ready for the green filling.—Christian Science Monitor.

HOOVER EXPLAINS FOOD FOR EUROPE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Herbert C. Hoover, chief of the food administration, this afternoon explained to the members of the senate finance committee and the house appropriations committee the urgent necessity for putting into effect at once his announced comprehensive plan for revictualing starving Europe.

Mr. Hoover has delayed his start for Europe until he can make all of his plans complete and secure assurances that necessary congressional aid will be extended. He was told by members with whom he talked that they realized that the necessity was immediate and was promised all possible aid.

Mr. Hoover told the senators and representatives with whom he talked that he was going to Europe to study all of the problems and that he would be back here about Christmas. Until he knew definitely he could not say how much money would be needed and the leaders with whom he talked were not willing to indicate whether they believed congress would be in any mood to appropriate money to feed the enemies of the United States.

Hoover and Judge Glasgow, counsel for the food commission, told congress that no new legislation was needed yet and that they would fully explain their wants when the food administrator returns.

WHITMAN CONFIDENT ON RECOUNT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Nov. 14.—Governor Whitman, on his return to Albany today, reiterated his belief that a recount of the votes cast at the recent election will assure his re-election but denied that he had charged fraud on the part of the Democrats in apparently electing Alfred E. Smith.

The governor has not yet filed his election expense account. His opponent, Smith, received nothing and spent nothing, according to his account on file in the secretary of state's office.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Nov. 14.—Trading indicated at the opening of the stock market that yesterday's pressure came from short interests. With the evidence of outside buying today those who took the bear side yesterday became anxious about covering shorts with the beginning of business. Steel Common made an advance of ⅝ in the first fifteen minutes to 99½ and other steel industrials moving up in same way, Bethlehem B. gaining 1⅝ to 61¼ and Baldwin rose ⅞ to 84¼. Great Northern Ore continued in good demand, reflecting accumulation for some special purpose and advanced ⅝ to 34¼. Southern Pacific was the strongest of the railway issues, advancing one point to 106⅝. Reading gained ¾ to 90. Marine Preferred moved up 1⅞ points to 122¼ and many other stocks made gains from fractions to over one point.

Further advances were made in practically all the important issues during the forenoon with a general feeling of confidence in many quarters that the market had been oversold in the last few days and that stocks had gone into strong hands, making the technical positions favor an upward movement. There was a good deal of talk on the street about arrangement for utilizing all the output of the steel plants and a far different feeling prevailed in regard to those issues than had been shown earlier in the week. Steel Common was in demand and moved up to 100⅛ and there was good buying of the other steel industrials. Railroad stocks also showed a better tone, Southern Pacific moving up more than one point to 106⅝, while Union Pacific rose nearly one point to 134½. Marine Preferred advanced over two points to 123⅛.

The market was quiet during the afternoon and fractionally lower. Steel Common, after selling up to 100⅛, declined 1 point and Baldwin reacted from 84¼ to 83¾, and Bethlehem Steel B dropped ½ to 61⅞. American Smelting reacted nearly one point to 88⅝ and American Sumatra Tobacco fell nearly 3 points to 106½, while Studebaker reacted from 68¾ to 66¼. Marine Preferred dropped from 123⅛ to 122⅛ and Southern Pacific reacted from 107½ to 106⅞.

The market closed weak; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The boss barbers of Kingston, realizing they have gone through four years of war in the face of high high prices on all their commodities (barber supplies) and high prices of everything else outside and not having changed their prices in all that time, now feel they are justified in charging thirty-five cents for a hair cut from now on until such a time as conditions on high prices might change.

BUSINESS MEN SEE PROSPERITY AHEAD

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The United States is facing a period of possibly the greatest prosperity in its history. That is the opinion that has been conveyed to the White House by the big business men, including Bernard M. Baruch, who have been shaping the national war policy. They have told the president that in their opinion the first few weeks will be hardest. Then industry will be compelled to readjust itself to the new conditions. But after that has been accomplished there will be work for every man, woman and child now working as well as for the millions of soldiers and sailors who are to be returned to private life.

The president's attention has been directed to the enormous construction program delayed for over two years because of war necessities.

Hardly a community but now must expand and production of materials for this work alone is likely to tax raw material production. There are many new industries as a result of the war, chief of them the dye production which can now be started up "full speed ahead."

Within a day or so an official announcement is expected to be forthcoming from the White House defining the reconstruction policy to be followed by the president. He is expected to name a commission to deal generally in the very broadest sense with these problems.

While up to the present the personnel of this committee has not been divulged a suggestion that has met with favor is that it be made up of Secretary of the Navy Josephus Daniels, who has made for himself the reputation of being the best bargainer for the interests of the government among all cabinet officials; Secretary of War Baker, Representative Swagar Sherley and Frederick H. Gillette, of the house appropriations committee, and Senators Simmons and Smoot, of the senate finance committee.

The question of naming the commission, although favored in administration circles, has, however, not been approved by the president. Should he finally decide that such action is not wise at the present moment it is absolutely certain that he will let it be known which war activities boards will be continued in power.

WEST ESOPUS.

West Esopus, Nov. 14.—The school of West Esopus opened on Monday with a glorious celebration over the close of the war and the influenza epidemic. School was opened with the roll call, after which W. C. A. Witt and E. B. Sheldon, trustees of the district, had the children motored about the district. The cars were decorated with small flags and also carried the large flag which floats from the flag staff daily. The children were in the best of spirits over the glorious victory over the war and epidemic. Each one seemed glad to be able to resume their lessons, also the teacher seemed glad to see all her scholars back in their former places again.

Thomas Kennedy is still very sick with a relapse of influenza.

George Van Horen had the misfortune to lose his team of horses last week.

Mrs Francis Van Horen of New York city is spending a few days at the home of her son, George Van Horen.

The many friends of Mrs. Charles Martin are still sorry to hear her long illness is not abating, but hope she will soon recover.

ALL USE GESTURE SIGNALS

But Many School Children Are Absolutely Unaware of Practice That May Be Called Universal.

Ernest Thompson Seton maintains that children are natural sign talkers, and illustrative of this fact he tells in his new volume, Sign Talk, the following uniform experience he had in taking observations among schoolboys and girls:

"All denied any knowledge of the sign language, at first, but were themselves surprised on discovering how much of it they had in established use.

"One very shy little girl—so shy that she dared not speak—furnished a good illustration.'

"'Do you use the sign language in your school?' I asked.

"She shook her head.

"'Do you learn any language but English?'

"She nodded.

"'What is the use of learning any other than English?'

"She raised her right shoulder in the faintest possible shrug and at the same time turned her right palm slightly up.

"'Now, was my reply, 'don't you see you have answered all my three questions in signs which you said you did not use?'

"Following the subject," Mr. Seton says, "in general I found about 150 gesture signals in established use among American school children."

AS IT SEEMED TO CHILD

Little One Only Looked to Particulars of Situation as They Appealed to Her.

An amusing story is told by Miss Hazel Dawn concerning a certain cinema play she was once rehearsing for.

In one scene the heroine—not Miss Dawn—had to leap overboard from a yacht, clad only in her night attire, and swim ashore, pursued by the villain in a motorboat.

As the actress, a rather diminutive personage, ran along the beach after scrambling ashore, she came unexpectedly on a family party consisting of a father and his little daughter.

The child was evidently astonished that anyone should be running about out of doors dripping wet and with so little clothing on.

"Oh, dada!" she piped, after reflecting for a moment. "Oh, dad, I s'pose that ickle girl must have run away from her mother when she was washing her."—Pearson's Weekly.

The Scrap Book

THE LITTLE THINGS.

The little things—the kindly words and deeds
That one may say and do yet seldom does—
The word of cheer some toiling brother needs
That we withhold and never speak because
We didn't think: 'Twould turn his day to gold,
Repaying us, in cheer, ten thousand fold!

The little things—a baby's tiny shoe,
The toys he dropped along the rosy ways,
A broken drum and leaden soldier too,
All take us back to long forgotten days;
The greatest things we pass and then forget—
The little things—ah, we remember yet!

The little things! How wrong and misapplied
When all that's best in life is made of such—
The cheering thoughts of kindness that abide—
The song of love that springs from Mem'ry's touch;
The little things in all this throbbing strife
Are, after all, the greatest things in life.

—John D. Wells.

Witness Proved He Couldn't Be Trapped Even by the Most Skillful Legal Questioning.

The recent troubles in Ireland have brought into international prominence Sir Francis Hopwood, who was recently made a British peer. During the troubles he was called upon to examine a witness in a case where the bailiff had ejected a tenant, and one of the witnesses testified that the officers had broken into the cabin with a beam that looked like a battering ram.

Sir Francis saw an opening, or thought he did— "Have you ever seen a battering ram?" he asked.

"I have," replied the witness.

"Where?" snapped Sir Francis.

"In London."

"Whereabouts in London?" persisted Sir Francis with a smile of incredulity.

"In South Kensington museum."

Fish Hears With His Whole Body.

In an address before the American Philosophical society, George H. Parker made a critical survey of the sense of hearing in fishes. That fishes could hear was maintained by most naturalists of antiquity, such as Pliny and Aristotle. This was also the opinion of such masters of the art of fishing as Izaak Walton and such students of fish anatomy as John Hunter. In fact it was the general view of the function of ears in fishes until the latter part of the last century, when scientists declared that the purpose of the ear was to keep the fish in equilibrium, a sort of balancing device.

Recent researches, however, indicate that in the case of the catfish, especially, the sense of hearing is present, not only in the ears, but over the general surface of the body.

Foreign Aviators.

Sergt. Edgar Bouligny, of New Orleans, is quoted as saying in a Paris interview: "The Bulgarians are good flyers as a rule and the Turks are fair. One Bulgarian ace is credited with 12 victories. Albania, where I flew lately, is a very dangerous country for aviators because of the rugged hills over which low clouds often hang. It is the most striking wilderness I have ever seen, being picturesque with wooded mountains and numerous precipices. If the motor goes wrong a pilot's chances of getting down unhurt are very slim. Landing places are exceedingly rare. The enemy placed machine gun batteries on many of the mountain peaks and when we sailed over them at a low altitude we often got bullet holes in the machines."

Funds for Colleges.

There are more than 400 universities and colleges in the United States with permanent endowments or productive funds ranging from a few thousand to several million dollars. Some of them are celebrated while many others not so widely known are nevertheless on a firm financial foundation. The five with largest productive funds are: Columbia university, $35,457,000; Harvard university, $28,448,701; Leland Stanford, $24,000,000; Yale, $18,431,444, and Cornell university, $14,670,000. There are more than thirty others with productive funds exceeding $1,000,000.

After the Biggest One.

One day when some cookies were being passed to him, little Ralph reached across the plate for the biggest visible one.

"Ralph," said his mother, reprovingly, "you must take the cookie nearest to you."

"But, mother," he replied in an aggrieved tone, "why is the biggest one always on the other side?"

To Work Old Mine.

When David B. Weaver of Saxony, Minn., went to Montana in 1864 he discovered a gold mine. While he and his parents were at work on it Indians drove them off. Recently he went prospecting again and he found the same mine and intends to work it, despite his seventy-eight years.

Nets for Smugglers.

A curious method of preventing smuggling instituted by the Italian government is the fixing of a metallic net along the length of the Swiss frontier. The net is of five-mesh steel wire about nine feet high, and there are gateways at different points.

GRADE CROSSINGS ORDERED CLOSED

The Public Service Commission, Second District, at its regular session Tuesday, Chairman Charles B. Hill presiding, ordered that the so-called Meyer, Tissall, Spring and Unionville crossings and an overgrade crossing of the West Shore Railroad in the town of Saugerties be closed.

The order further provides that traffic is to be diverted by the construction of two stretches of new highway on the west side of the railroad tracks, one between the Meyer and Tissall crossings, and the other between the Spring and overgrade crossings. This will permit traffic from Mount Marion station to Saugerties station without crossing the railroad.

The highways are to be paved for 14 feet with waterbound macadam, guard rails provided, ditches made and sufficient culverts constructed to insure ample drainage. The Unionville crossing schoolhouse is to be removed to the west side of the tracks.

The commission takes no action upon the Cantine crossing but recommends that it be closed as a higway and made a private crossing.

The cost of the improvements, $42,000 is to be paid, by the railroad one-half or $21,000, the town of Saugerties one-quarter or $10,500, and the state one-quarter or $10,500, and the town is to pay any amount in excess of $42,000.

Magazines Needed for Soldiers.

An appeal for recent magazines for the soldiers at Camp Gordon, Georgia, has been received by Miss Marion Herbert of the city library. Mrs. Searing, who is working with the foreign born men at the Y. W. C. A. Hostess House there has asked for magazines to be sent monthly. She needs good magazines, particularly technical and trade journals, and there is a special call for those that have to do with machinery and automobiles. Good literature and fiction can be used also. Most people, after reading magazines, do not have any further use for them. Send them to the city library and they will be forwarded to Mrs. Searing at Camp Gordon. Do it soon. They are needed now.

SHORT SESSION OF SUPERVISORS

Chairman Lounsbery again kept his promise to call the meetings of the board of supervisors promptly on time, he pounding the gavel calling the members present last evening at precisely 7:30 o'clock, by the timepiece on the wall in the meeting room. Twenty-seven supervisors were present to answer the roll call, and although there was considerable for Clerk DeWitt to read, the session for the evening was over at 8 o'clock, giving ample time for the town legislators to go home in their autos, because the majority of the town representatives have flivvers.

Communications of interest to taxpayers were read from the state comptroller as follows:

The state board of equalization in pursuance of section 174, chapter 62 of the consolidated laws of 1909, has fixed the aggregate valuations of property in your county at the sum of $50,000,029, upon which amount a state tax of $53,030.83 must be levied for the fiscal year, commencing July 1, 1918, as provided by law, being 1.06 mills on the dollar. Also in addition to the state tax there is directed to be levied and raised to pay stenographers for the third judicial district, for deputy clerk, appellate division, and for referees, the sum of $3,014.50. Pursuant to the military law there is also required to be raised on the county the sum of $7,035.84, to be remitted to the state comptroller for armory purposes for the twelve months beginning July 1, 1919. The three communications were referred to the committee on appropriations.

The report of County Treasurer Philip Schantz was read and referred to the committee on county treasurer and sealer.

The report of County Clerk Loughran on receipt from mortgage taxes was read. There were $7,245.30 received, from which $364.14 was allowed for expenses by comptroller, also $19.49, leaving a total to be distributed of $6,861.67, one half to town and villages entitled to share and other one-half to the state. Referred to committee on county treasurer and sealer.

The annual report of County Clerk C. K. Loughran for the year ending October 31, 1918, was received, read and referred to the committee on surrogate and county clerk. For recording deeds, $2,210.47; recording mortgages, $1,191.79; recording other documents, $1,762.19; docketing judgments and cancelling dockets, $315.35; copies and exemplification of papers and records, $400.66; filing papers and all other services, $309.90; total, $6,190.36. In addition there has been received $6,861.67, the net amount of recording tax on mortgages from November 1, 1917 to October 31, 1918.

The usual resolutions as to payments for cutting brush, the levying of unpaid school taxes with 7 per cent interest, that town account audits be levied on the respective towns, and the levying of tax on bank stock and bank shares, etc., of 1 per cent, were introduced by Supervisors Saxe, Brink, Fratsher and Schermerhorn and laid over under the rule.

On motion of Supervisor Fratsher, the board of supervisors adjourned until Monday evening, November 18, at 7.30 o'clock.

The board of county canvassers it is expected will report the result of the canvass on Monday evening before the supervisors begin their meeting.

FAVOR VERSAILLES FOR CONFERENCE

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 14.—Plans for the coming peace conference will be prepared at a special session of the Inter-Allied council at Versailles early next week. At that time the council will take up the time and place for the conference and the representation to be accorded the various organizations.

As stated in these dispatches last Monday there is a very strong sentiment in favor of holding the conference at Versailles. France wants it there for sentimental reasons. Great Britain believes it would be much wiser for it to go there than to either Holland or Switzerland, neither of which countries was any too friendly while the issues of the war hung in the balance. Italy has no particular preference, while the United States is willing that the time and place suits the wants of the other nations.

At Versailles absolute privacy could be assured. The French government would be able to surround the meeting place with guards through whom no one could pass. And absolute protection could be afforded to all participants, something which cannot be assured in any neutral country. Because of this, unless some unexpected hitch shall take place, it is very probable Versailles will be the place chosen.

Some people have enthusiastically suggested that the United States be given the conference as a tribute to President Wilson. But even officials here have refused to consider any such suggestion seriously, realizing that to suggest such a plan would revive jealousies that at present are dormant.

The president has so far failed to give any indication regarding the men that he has under consideration to represent the United States. Neither has he expressed an opinion one way or the other on the proposition suggested by his zealous admirers that he personally attend the peace conference. It is expected, however, that some word on both subjects will soon be available.

CHEERFUL THOUGH WOUNDED.

Coleman Palen Writes From Base Hospital 7.

With wounds in both legs, Coleman Palen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Palen, of Samsonville, is still able to take a great interest in the home folks and friends. He writes to his sister, Mrs. F. Osterhoudt, describing the battle, as follows:

Tours, France,
Oct. 13, 1918.

Dear Sister:

Will send you these few lines to let you know I am still alive, and am doing very nicely, considering the shape I have been in, for I had the misfortune to get shot up a bit, in the last drive we made on the Huns. Both bones in one leg were shattered and was shot through the other leg. Was also hit by a shrapnel. I was wounded Friday, the 27th, and lay on the field until Saturday at 2 o'clock. I was out between the two lines in "Dead Man's Land." One time when the boys fell back a little, the Huns passed by where I was lying. One passed very close where I lay wounded. They did not stop. Just looked at me and passed on. In fact they didn't have the time, for our boys came back at them so hard that they drove them back and kept them on the run after that.

It will be some time, I guess, before I will take part in the scrap again.

How are all the folks? When is the last time you have seen mother and dad? Also Jack and his wife?

How about sending me some candy. You know I could eat about ten pounds right now. And also send me some good U. S. cigars.

Well, sis, I haven't got anything new to write you, just the same old thing to let you know how I am. If I could tell you about the different things and places, and so-so, why, I could then write you something of interest. But such things are forbidden, so about all I can say, and that which I hate to say, is good-bye. Write me often. Send lots of love to mother, dad and the rest, and tell them all to write me, for there is so much news you can write me about. With lots of love and write soon.

Your brother,
COLE.

AUBREY ARNST KILLED IN ACTION

Private Aubrey Arnst is reported officially killed in action somewhere in France on September 29, by the war department, and a telegram to that effect was sent by the department Wednesday to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Arnst at their home in Hurley. Private Arnst was killed in the same battle in which his chum, Private John J. Joyce lost his life. He was a student at Kingston High School when this country was forced into the world war and promptly enlisted with Company M on June 9, 1917, graduating from the high school on June 28 of that year. He was a young man who was held in high esteem by all who knew him. While at high school he always took an active interest in school activities and was one of the editors of the school paper, The Maroon, was manager of one of the athletic teams and a member of the Athletic Council. Besides his parents he is survived by three sisters, Mary, Alice and Edna, and a brother, Walter.

COUNTY SHARE STATE TAX $53,030

While the amount of state tax to be raised on Ulster county, as fixed by the state board of equalization for this year is $53,030.83, being $568.73 more than last year, the rate last year was 1.05 mills on the dollar against 1.06 this year. The amount to be raised for armory purposes last year was $7,271.69 against $7,035.84 this year. Last year for stenographers, deputy clerk, appellate division, and referees it was $2,132.45 against $3,014.50 to be raised this year.

Uses for Corks.

Have you ever tried using corks in cleaning steel knives? When a strong cork, with a substantial base, is dipped in the cleaning preparation and then rubbed briskly over the blade, it will be found to work much more effectively than the more common method of using a small cloth. The saving to the hands is quite worth considering, at the same time.

Sicker Than Ever.

What makes a kid the maddest is to get sick so he won't have to go to school, and then to find out that the teacher was sick on that day and that there wasn't any school.

The KITCHEN CABINET

He hath never fed of the dainties that are bred in a book; he hath not eat paper as it were; he hath not drunk ink.—Shakespeare.

TIMELY HINTS.

Now that it is a part of our expression of loyalty to our country in war for us to economize in every way possible to save food, even with money to buy the surplus, it is a good time to cut down on our own eating. The average over weighted individual beyond thirty could easily cut out one-third of the food eaten. We have by over-indulgence so stoked the furnace that it seems dissatisfied unless the usual amount is eaten.

When the excretory organs are overworked the liver stored with fat and the kidneys and skin stored with waste, the body cannot do its work without the food, chewing it until it "swallows itself" as Fletcher says, less food would be eaten, less waste would result and there would be the assimilation of all the food eaten, which is a most important item when we are asked to save food. Any woman who carries one pound excess of weight is robbing our country of its needed food. Know your height, know your weight and act accordingly.

It takes will power to overcome a habit of long standing, but with determination and the desire to do her part in this, our war, the women of America will not be found lacking.

Eat plenty of vegetables, the salts and mineral matter which they contain are most essential to keep the blood in good condition and the body strong and well.

Make a better and bigger vegetable garden this year, have a variety of vegetables for each day and can any surplus while it is still fresh from garden. Dandelion greens are especially fine canned. They should be put into the cans within an hour from the time they have been growing.

Fruits as well as vegetables contain mineral salts and acids necessary to keep the body in good condition. Children should not be restricted as to fruits and vegetables, they need the iron, lime and a dozen other mineral salts found in such foods to build strong bodies. Serve water cress, pepper grass, spinach and dandelion instead of sulphur and molasses or drugs for the "spring fever."

UNIVERSAL DAY OF BAD LUCK

In All Ages Friday Has Been Considered a Period of General Ill Omen.

The French call Friday "Vendredi"—Venus day.

Scandinavians regard Friday as the luckiest day of the week.

Our ancestors believed that eggs laid on a Friday would cure colic.

"Friday face" still lingers as a term of reproach for a sour-visaged person.

Friday is the United States' lucky day. Columbus discovered land on that day; the Pilgrims landed on a Friday, and Washington was born on a Friday.

The "unluckiness" of Friday owes its origin, of course, to our Lord Jesus Christ's death on Good Friday.

Friday marriages are "for losses" and superstitious couples who are getting married avoid this day.

Shipping returns of all countries show a much lower sailing rate on Friday than on any other day of the week.

The Talmud, the book containing the civil laws of the ancient Jews, says that Adam was created on a Friday, sinned on a Friday, and was thrust out of Eden on a Friday.

Cows Sleep Upstairs.

Three valuable heifers, belonging to a farmer at Blairgowrie, Scotland, were lost for three days recently, and it was supposed that they had been stolen. Passing an uninhabited house later in the week, a soldier was surprised to see the head of a heifer at an upper window, and the missing cattle were found together in the front bedroom of the house. How they got there is a mystery, and considerable difficulty was experienced in removing them.
